EDGE OF FIRESTORM

Three large forest fires are raging in California as dry heat blanketed forest and mountain areas. Marin, too, has approached the dangerous fire season, and residents have been warned against unnecessary outdoor fires. Aerial photo below shows the edge of the firestorm raging in the hills of Lake County. In all, approximately 22,000 acres of land in California has been blackened. (AP Wirephoto)

Dry Heat Threatens Marin

High Temperatures combined with a desert humidity of 9 per cent today considerably increased the fire danger in Marin County.

County fire officials warned that residents should use "extreme caution" with their incinerators and barbecues until the heat wave subsides.

Temperatures yesterday hit highs of 101 in San Anselmo, 100 in Woodacre and 98 in San Rafael.

Repairs to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District's smog indicator cost Marin a high smog reading yesterday on one of the smoggiest" days of the year.

The indicator, located at the county communications building in San Rafael, had been removed a week ago to be repaired in the district's San Francisco offices.

The district, realizing it was

Fire Hits Lake County's Resorts, Hundreds Flee

Forest Blazes Strike Three Areas In State

COMBINED AP & UPI

Three forest and brush fires blazing in Northern California today have blackened 22,000 acres and forced hundreds to flee from resorts and summer homes.

A fire in Lake County, 60 miles north of Marin County, swept over 9,000 acres; one in Shasta County, north of Redding, covered nearly 7,000 acres, and another in Mariposa County, 6,000 acres.

The Cobb Mountain fire in Lake County drove 350 guests from Hoberts resort on Highway 29 last night as flames pressed in from two sides and hurtled the highway.

REPORT ON FIRE

Hoberg's reported at 8 a.m. today flames then were one and one-half miles from buildings and were partly controlled in that sector.

Three other smaller resorts were closed last night as 30 miles an hour winds fanned the fire.

Vacationers at several other resorts were alerted but not all were in the path of the flames.

Five cabins, five hunting shacks and two ranches were reported destroyed.

There were no reports of injuries.

STARTED SUNDAY

The Lake County blaze was touched off Sunday by a minor brush fire which exploded into a "firestorm." State forestry division officials said the firestorm condition was created by intense heat, producing a whirlwind effect with winds up to 100 miles-per-hour.

Aerial tankers joined the battle but pilots couldn't find the firefront under a dense pall of black smoke blowing ahead of the flames.

Now at the height of the tourist season, the area accommodates about 2,000 persons.

ROAD CLOSED

Highway 29, a main route to Clear Lake, 20 miles to the north, of the threatened area, was closed. So were many side roads. Only outgoing traffic was permitted.

A brush and grass fire burned approximately 6,000 acres near Mariposa in the Sierra foothills 50 miles east of Merced. It destroyed a home owned by George Sittner in Mariposa County and crossed into Madera County.

It, too, was fanned by strong wind, with prospects of more of the same today.

Nearly 1,500 men, six aerial tankers and four helicopters were on the scene at the Lake Shasta fire. Aerial smokejumpers parachuted into the fire lines in the rugged mountain

ARSON PROBED

Fire Road Blocked In 10-Acre Blaze

Sheriff's deputies and Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom today were investigating the possibility of arson in a 10-acre fire near Oak Manor in Fairfax.

The blaze started about 1 a.m. today northwest of Oak Manor subdivision north of Julie Ann Crest road and a county fire road that is connected to Julie Ann.

County fire trucks were blocked for several minutes on the fire road.

"Someone had put two large pipes upright in freshly laid cement and blocked our trucks at a place in the road where it was impossible to get around," said Bloom. Firemen struggled to pull out one pipe and bend another as the fire raged. But they eventually got over the obstacle. Meanwhile Chief Bloom sent trucks to the crest of the hill north of the fire.

Five trucks and crews and about 25 male residents of Oak Manor battled several hours to contain the blaze which the chief was worried might break for Oak Manor in front of a west wind during the balmy dry morning.

Because the trucks were able to get over the road, crews could operate between the blaze and the subdivision.

The fire destroyed grass, brush and trees of the property of A. Von Rotz and of Smith Brothers Ranch.

Van Rotz, a San Anselmo contractor, developed the Oak Manor subdivision. He told the Independent-Journal today he had no idea who would want to burn his property or block the fire road.

"Of course I may have some enemies, but they never have shown their horns," he added.

This morning's alarm was telephoned to the county and to the San Anselmo Fire Station at 1:10 a.m. San Anselmo stood by at the scene with two trucks. Smoke from the blaze continued to hang over the northern portion of Ross Valley at dawn today. The last fire truck left the scene at 8 a.m. and later another was sent back to patrol throughout the day.

Marin Tax Rate Official: $2.07

Marin County's 1962-63 tax rate was officially set today at $2.07 per $100 assessed value by resolution adopted 3-1 by the supervisors.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman contributed the sole dissenting vote to be consistent with his previous opposition to the overall budget because it contains $535,000 to be set aside for the next phase of the civic center.

Included was a library district tax of 14 cents which, Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell told the board, applies to 55 per cent of the county amounting to $163,357,765 assessed valuation out of a total current $294,927,245.

All the unincorporated area pays the library tax as well as the cities of Belvedere, Corte Madera, Ross, Fairfax and Novato.

Property taxes must provide 45.5 per cent of the $13,916,-971.67 total budget without library, Mitchell reported. This comes to $6,326,337.49.

Aid from other governmental agencies pays 34.9 per cent or $4,857,064.45, with 10.8 per cent or $1,504,374 coming out of miscellaneous charges and revenue. Available balances make up the other 8.8 per cent or $1,229,195.73.

Breaking down the budget proportions, Mitchell said that services and supplies will absorb 45.2 per cent of the money, salaries and employees' benefits 36.1, capital outlay 16.5 and 2.2 per cent goes to reserve.

Supervisor Chairman Walter R. Castro's District No. 1 has moved into top position in terms of assessed values this year, Mitchell disclosed, swapping with the second district represented by Fusselman.

Castro in the San Rafael territory now represents 30.4 per cent of the whole assessed valuation of the county as compared with 28.1 per cent last year, whereas Fusselman's district has dropped to 28.8 per cent from 30 per cent last year.

District 1 has a total $89,-629,920 assessed valuation this year, of which the incorporated area accounts for $65,578,710 as against $24,051,210 for the unincorporated area.

Not far behind is District 2 with $84,920,850 total including $59,073,020 for the cities and $25,847,830 for unincorporated areas.

Peter Behr's District 3 runs third with 26.1 per cent of the whole, totaling $76,854,750 of which South Marin cities add up to $43,133,770 and unincorporated area $33,720,980.

Ranking fourth is District 5 represented by William A. Gnoss of Novato, totaling 11.9 per cent in the amount of $35,-155,905. Novato accounts for $18,492,455 closely followed by $16,663,450 for unincorporated territory.

George H. Ludy's Fourth District is far down with only 2.8 per cent of the assessed valuation of the county, amounting to $8,365,820. There is no West Marin incorporated area.

Overall, said Mitchell, 63.2 per cent of the assessed valuation lies within incorporated areas, 36.8 per cent outside.

Mitchell sadi the auditor's office has compiled tax rates for 268 taxing geographical code areas representing total rates for 107 separate govern-

Strong Quake Causes Italy, Greece Panic

ATHENS (UPI) — A "strong earth tremor" centered 65 miles southwest of Athens shook Greece and southern Italy today, causing panic, one death and some property damage.

In Greece, police at the town of Corinth said a man of 90 died of injuries. In Naples, Italian police said a woman in her 60s was injured when she fled in panic.

Otherwise, authorities reported only damage to buildings.

But the tremor caused momentary terror here and in towns and villages all over earthquake-conscious southern Italy, where a series of quakes last week killed 18 persons,injured hundreds, made scores of settlements uninhabitable and caused an estimated 100 million dollars worth of damage.

Today's shock wave was felt in places as far apart as Trento, near the border between Italy and Austria; on the Island of Malta off the south of Sicily, and on the Island of Crete.

The seismographic station in Athens located the epicenter 65 miles southwest of Athens.

Still mindful of last week's quakes, thousands of persons fled into the streets in southern Italy.

The area affected today was much wider, an estimated 150,-000 square miles. It stretched from coast to coast in southern Italy.

The earthquake was not felt in the Ravello area where Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy was vacationing with her daughter Caroline.

Hoover Has Growth Removed In Operation

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover, 88, underwent an operation today for removal of an intestinal lesion.

Hoover withstood the operation well and is resting satisfactorily, a spokesman at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center told newsmen.

"We do not know at this time whether the lesion was malignant (cancerous) or not," the spokesman said.

The operation took more than three hours. Hoover was in the operating room more than five hours.

The lesion was taken to a laboratory for examination. Results probably will not be announced before tomorrow.

Hoover was wheeled into the operating room at 7:30 a.m. for removal of a polypoid lesion in the upper part of the large bowel.

The growth was described as a type that generally is noncancerous.

Hoover entered the medical center Aug. 20 for a routine physical checkup. The hospital announced yesterday that X-ray studies and laboratory tests had shown "evidence of a polypoid lesion in the upper part of Mr. Hoover's large bowel."

His health has been unusual ly good for one of his age. His last extended stay in Columbia Presbyterian was in 1958 when his gall bladder was removed.

25 Parked Cars Attacked By Vandals

Twenty-five cars parked along Las Gallinas Avenue and other residential streets north of San Rafael were attacked by vandals early today, the Marin County sheriff's office reported.

Car doors and glove compartments were thrown open, sheriff's deputies on patrol observed at 4 a.m. Cigarette lighters were strewn on the street. Maps and papers were removed from glove compartments and scattered. Two pairs of sunglasses were tossed on the pavement and jumped on.

Acid was emptied from a battery which vandals took from a pickup truck. A flare was used to burn a hole in a tire on one parked car.

Stephen Rachal of 100 Las Gallinas Avenue told deputies he saw two boys, about 12 years old, laughing and playing with flares early today in the neighborhood.

Cars entered were parked on Las Gallinas Avenue, El Prado Avenue and Corillo Drive.

Russ Again Reject Plan For Test Ban

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union said today it "will not consider agreement" on a nuclear ban on the basis of new Western proposals made yesterday by President John F. Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasili Kuznetsov rejected the new Western initiative for the second day in a row at today's session of the nuclear subcommittee of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

But American Ambassador Arthur H. Dean said he still hopes "the Soviet Union has not said its final word on the subject."

The West, he said, is "prepared to wait as long as necessary for the Soviet government to give due thought and consideration to these proposals."

The Western proposals were made yesterday. They were almost immediately rejected by Kuznetsov, who backed up his rejection today.

The Soviet diplomat said his country "will not consider an agreement on the basis of these proposals which can only increase the arms race."

Kennedy and Macmillan yesterday jointly proposed the immediate signature of a treaty banning all tests for warlike purposes or, alternatively, one banning tests in the atmosphere, under water or in outer space.

The latter treaty would continue to include provisions for on-site inspection of underground explosions in the Soviet Union and other countries — something the Soviets have so far steadfastly refused to agree to.

Dean told the subcommittee today the West prefers the more comprehensive treaty but would be willing to settle for the partial one as a first step towards nuclear disarmament.

But Kuznetsov rejected both versions. The West, he said, is not bringing anything new to the conference table.

Salinger Kin Quitting Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert E. Salinger, brother of President John F. Kennedy's press secretary, has resigned from his Labor Department post of special assistant on youth employment.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, accepting the resignation with "great reluctance," announced today he is conferring on Salinger the Labor Department's Award of Merit.

The award is for Salinger's service as executive secretary of the President's Committee on Youth Employment. Goldberg wrote Salinger that "for the first time, through your efforts, the department has developed an over-all approach to the problems of youth and has coordinated all of its activities in this area."

Algerians Backing Up Ben Bella

ALGIERS (AP) — The chief of the regular Algerian army summoned guerrilla leaders to a meeting in eastern Algeria today in an effort to weld a common front against anti-Ben Bella guerrillas controlling Algiers and the surrounding area.

From his headquarters in western Algeria, Col. Houari Boumedienne called the commanders of Wilayas (military zones) Nos. 1, 2, 5 and 6 to the meeting in Setif, 150 miles east of Algiers on the road to Constantine.

The leaders of Wilayas 3 and 4, who chased Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau out of the capital, were not invited.

Boumedienne, chief of the 45,000-man regular army, clearly was attempting to unite most of Algeria's 100,000 troops against the anti-Ben Bella guerrilla commanders in Central Algeria.

Grim Funeral For E. Berlin Youth

BERLIN (UPI)—Peter Fechter, 18, who died without a doctor, was buried without a clergyman.

About 300 East Berliners ignored plainclothesmen of the Communist secret police yesterday to attend the grim funeral they paid silent tribute to a youth most of them had not known until he lost his life for turning his back on East Germany's totalitarian regime

East Germany denied a religious burial for the youth that Communist guards shot down 11 days ago as he tried to scale the anti-refugee wall to West Berlin.

Theft Of $35,000

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Money bags containing an estimated $35,000 were reported stolen from an armored car here.

Police said the armored motor service had estimated about 14 to 18 bags were taken and that they probably contained $35,000, but an exact figure could not be determined until later today.

The armored car was manned by a driver and a guard. They told police the bags must have been stolen either during a stop at the Valley National Bank main office in downtown Phoenix, or while the car was parked behind the National Life and Casualty Building on North Central Avenue.

U.S. Crime Rate Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI has reported a 3 per cent jump in the nation's crime rate in the first half of this year.

On the brighter side, the report made public yesterday by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy showed a 2 per cent decrease in over-all crime in cities ranging in population from 750,000 to a million. Rural counties reported a crime rate 5 per cent under that of the first six months of 1961.

Singer Hospitalized

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Jane Morgan, 42, was taken unconscious to a hospital last night after telling a friend she had consumed "a dose of pills," police said.

She was given oxygen in an ambulance en route to Roosevelt Hospital. She regained consciousness early today and her condition was listed as good.

A private physician said there was no indication the singer had taken pills. He attributed her condition to nervous exhaustion.

The Phoenix, Ariz., housewife, who arrived here Sunday night from Sweden where she underwent an abortion to prevent the birth of a deformed child, was in seclusion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Finkbine.

Her husband, Robert, said the couple had "no definite plans" for returning to their Phoenix home, but that he would be back "in plenty of time" for the start of the fall term at the school where he teaches. He did not indicate whether his wife would accompany him.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Jobs were manned at normal strength at the Marshall Space Flight Center yesterday for the first time since Aug. 14 when about 150 electricians began a strike.

About 1,200 members of other building trades unions honored the lines and several projects vital to the country's moonshot program were hampered.

SPIRIT OF RESIGNATION

Here's A Peek At Life In East Germany

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Although Western correspondents regularly visit East Berlin, the rest of Communist East Germany usually is closed to them except for such East-West events as the annual Leipzig Trade Fair or an all-European sports competition. AP correspondent Loyal Gould, covering the swimming events, sends this report of life behind the Iron Curtain.)

By LOYAL GOULD

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP)— Hopes rise and fall along the Berlin wall with the slightest change in the East-West political climate.

But inside East Germany, there is a spirit of resignation.

Walter Ulbricht, Germany's top Red, has succeeded in wiping out almost all hope for a change for the better.

"After 17 years of Communist rule," a Leipzig streetcar conductor said, "we are coming to accept our fate."

He expressed the opinion of dozens of people this reporter talked to during 10 days in this former cultural and commercial center.

Once known as a little Paris because of its sparkling intellectual and social life, Leipzig now has the drab uniformity and widespread shabbiness characteristic of East Germany's colorless cities.

"Since it looks to many of us as if it's going to stay this way, we're knuckling under and trying to make the best of a bad situation," said a student from East Berlin's Humboldt University.

"The only way to get ahead here is to at least pretend you are a good Communist," he explained.

Joining the party assured him a university education, a slightly better diet and preference for a job when he graduates next year.

"There are about 1.6 million of us in the party," he continued, "and about 1 per cent are true believers.

"What's the use of showing opposition? You'll only suffer for it. Why try to escape? You'll probably be killed."

He said the widely publicized shootings by East German border police of their fellow countrymen trying to escape over the Berlin wall "have discouraged a lot of us from even thinking about getting out."

A shop clerk in her late teens voiced similar opinions.

"There's no use even pretending it ever will be different," she said, "because the people running things here are backed up by Russian power."

The girl, who would be pretty if she had the things with which Western women enhance their looks, is a member of the Communist Free German Youth organization.

"Why shouldn't I be?" she asked. "This way I get free vacations on the Baltic Coast in summer and better chances for job promotion."

Her finance is a 20-year-old machinist in a Leipzig factory. The party has promised them an apartment.

"I have to give lip service to party doctrine," said the machinist, "but why not when it's to my advantage?"

He said Communist and non-Communist workers in his factory meet almost daily to discuss the editorials in the party's main newspaper Neues Deutschland.

"These sessions are boring and time consuming and we dislike them," he continued, "but if you don't show you've read and understood the editorials, you're sunk."

He also said a constant display of enthusiasm for official policy tends to remove a bit of the police surveillance that hovers constantly over the residents of this country.

"If I'm a good boy and they begin to trust me a little," he added, "the sudden visits to my room by the police tend to fall off."

A young musician in a local night club for party big shots said 60 per cent of all popular music played by his band must be composed in the East bloc and the other 40 per cent must come from lists approved by the regime.

"This rules out real jazz and the type of music I like which is branded here as an example of Western decadence," he said.

"As you in the West say, it's square, but by playing this way I have a job and can get together now and then with my pals for private swing sessions of our own."

Communications Bill Approved; Kennedy Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy has on his desk today the communications satellite bill he wanted.

It gets up a private, profit-making corporation to run the U.S. portion of an eventual global network on space relay stations.

The House approved a Senate version of the bill 372 to 10 yesterday, foreclosing any chance to another Senate filibuster.

A small group of House liberals argued again that the bill represents a giveaway of millions of taxpayers' dollars spent on space research that makes the revolutionary communications system possible.

Rep. William Springer (R-Ill.) said, "If you say this is a giveaway bill, you're saying the president sent down a giveaway bill to the Congress of the United States." He added, "The prestige of this country is on the line with this bill."

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.), chairman of the House Commerce Committee, said, "Our nation needs it. It needs it now, and without further delay."

Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.), Who voted against the bill, said the corporation's board of directors would be dominated by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The private enterprise approach to the problem of how to run a global communications network was worked out in the executive branch after months of behind the scenes debate. It has the strong backing of the president.

The satellite corporation would have 15 directors: six named by the communications companies, six elected by public stockholders and three appointed by the president.

The communications companies could buy up to 50 per cent of the stock. The other half would be offered to the public at $100 a share.

The bill as it passed the House had a provision providing for a reduced number of directors to me named by the communications companies if they did not subscribe to their full share of the stock. This was knocked out by the Senate.

Perhaps the most important change the Senate made relates to ownership of the ground receiving stations from the orbiting satellites and feed them into ground communications systems.

The Senate bill authorized the Federal Communications Commission to decide whether the ground station should be owned by the satellite corporation itself, or by individual communications companies.

CONGRESS APPROVES BAN ON POLL TAXES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capping a 23-year battle, Congress has approved a proposed constitutional amendment which would ban poll taxes in federal elections.

Now it's up to the states, which have seven years to make up their mind.

With 40 votes to spare, the House completed action yesterday on a resolution submitting to the state legislatures the proposition of making it constitutionally wrong to require payment of a poll tax to vote in elections for federal officials.

The vote was 295 to 86. A two-thirds majority was needed for approval. The winners included 163 Democrats and 132 Republicans On the losing side were 71 Democrats and 15 Republicans.

Most of the dissenting Democrats were from the five states still having poll taxes: Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia.

The next move is up to the General Services Administration. That agency must certify the congressional action—approved last March by the Senate—to the governors of the 50 states. If three-fourths of the state legislatures—38 of them—ratify the proposed amendment within seven years it will become the law of the land.

The abolition proposal does not affect elections for state and local officials. It applies only to presidential and vice presidential electors and to voters for senators and United States representatives.

There was no certainty that approval of the 38 legislatures would be forthcoming despite the fact that only five states now have poll tax laws. Some Southern states which have repealed their own poll tax laws may look upon the proposal as an attempt by the federal government to prescribe qualifications for voters.

The House action lessened for the time being the potency of poll taxes as a national political issue. For years the platform of both major political parties have clamored for repeal of poll taxes, and since 1939 Congress has grappled with the issue.

TOWN GETS WHITEWASH BY GUSHING MACHINE

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (AP)—The town of Tharptown got an unexpected whitewash yesterday because a highway employee meant, but failed to paint a new divider line along Route 122.

A hose connected to an automatic line painter sprang a leak.

Police said the worker traveled at least two miles—almost the entire length of Tharptown—before honking automobile horns alerted him something was wrong.

Mutual Fund Probe Ready For Congress

NEW YORK (AP)—A detailed university study covering some good and some bad points of the 21-billion-dollar mutual fund industry was ready for Congress today.

Even before its 600 pages were opened to the public the report, four years in the making, had stirred up a considerable fuss.

Prepared at the direction of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the report to the House Commerce Committee is expected to bring about revisions of the booming industry's basic law, the Investment Company Act of 1940.

The study was made by the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania and cost the SEC $95,700. The fund industry cooperated in the study by answering detailed questionaires.

From two letters summarizing the report it is known the Wharton School raised serious questions about many practices and policies of the fund industry. The questions concern potential conflicts of interest, investment advisory fees and the effect of fund operations on the stock market.

The two letters, made public Friday, accompanied the report from the University to the SEC and from the SEC to the House committee.

William L. Cary, chairman of the SEC, said the commission is undertaking a "detailed analysis of the study with the view to making such recommendations as may seem appropriate." The filing of the report with Congress was not accompanied by any recommendations.

Cary emphasized last week that publication of the report "should not be construed as criticism by the commission of the investment merits of mutual fund shares, or the investment company as an important vehicle for investment or any particular company."

Although industry leaders have known for as long as a year that the report was approaching completion, some expressed fears that its publication will reduce share sales, at least temporarily.

Fund sales of shares during June and July fell behind a year ago (a record year) and to the lowest level since the last two months of 1960. Some industry officials consider this nothing out of the ordinary because of the big drop in stock market values this year.

A mutual fund sells its own shares to the public and pools the proceeds to invest in a wide variety of securities. Each fund has a different and specific objective.

There are more than 250 funds of all types.

Marin Tax Rate Official: $2.07

mental entities and the total tax rate required is found to vary from a low of $4.35 to a high of $11.205 per $100 assessed valuation.

Highest such total to be paid by a single developer with a newly enacted tax applicable to Mariner Oaks Service Area, the $1.46 of which raises this code area (53-029) to the overall $11.205 figure.

If you want low taxes you should live in Code Area 82-000 which is in the Point Reyes area and will pay an overall $4.35, while American Valley near the Sonoma boundary has only $4.73 to pay.

Next highest area is a minor one on the edge of Corte Madera, to pay $11.115. The reason for this high rate for Code Area 2-012 is that additional to Corte Madera taxes this section must pay a 66-cent Tiburon Fire District tax.

Third is Area 5-004, a small section subject to both Mill Valley and the 70-cent Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District tax, all totaling $10.735.

A larger code area in Corte Madera, 2-004, will pay $10.685 because of increase in Sanitary District No. 2 tax and another increase by Marin Junior College District.

Most of Belvedere will pay $10.655 as result of the junior college increase touching area 1-000.

Code area 53-027 will pay $10.575 and comprises unincorporated area near Tiburon, in the Paradise Cay County Service Area District and also subject to the junior college increase.

Adenauer Appeals For Berlin Cruelties End

BONN (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today appealed to the Big Four to put an end to "cruelties like the death of Peter Fechter" in divided Berlin.

The appeal was made in personal letters to President John F. Kennedy, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

A government announcement said the letters were dispatched today and would be transmitted through the West German ambassadors in the four capitals.

But the government denied reports that Adenauer was calling for a Big Four summit conference on Berlin.

The letters originally were not Adenauer's personal idea. He was talked into writing them at a meeting of his Parliamentary Party Executive last week.

"The chancellor is appealing to the four statesmen to contribute their part towards stopping such cruelties as the death of Peter Fechter, for reasons of both humanity and good reason," the government announcement said.

Aide List For Administrator Down To Three

Three top candidates for the new job of assistant county administrator will be exhaustively interviewed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors from 9 a.m. Sept. 6, it was decided by the board today.

Administrator Alan Bruce told the board that oral examinations of a selected 10 candidates yesterday were conducted all day by a committee of three and that he personally had been "much impressed by the caliber of the group."

All were so good, he said, that he hesitated to say the top-ranked three stood "head and shoulders" above the rest but he felt they were at any rate "shoulders above" and he concurred in the ranking given by the committee.

Bruce offered to bring the top three around for short interrogation by the board next Tuesday but Chairman Walter R. Castro asked for "at least a half-hour apiece" and was supported by his colleagues.

After further check of the backgrounds of the three best, said Bruce, he will furnish all members of the board with complete information on the three they are to interview.

Bruce explained that some misapprehension had been stirred by reports that written examinations were given the 100 who first applied. The sorting out was by committee and on a basis of study of qualification material basically, he said.

Dental Course Meeting At College Tonight

A meeting of dentists and college officials will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in room 24, Harlan Hall, College of Marin, to discuss equipment and qualifications for the new dental assisting course to start Sept. 4.

The dental assisting advisory committee will consist of 10 members of the Marin County Dental Assn., two representatives from the County Dental Assistants Assn., college President Dr. Stephen E. Epler, instructor Hazel Torres and Frank Jacobs, assistant dean of adult and technical education.

County's Personnel Policy Hits A Snag

The long debated statement of county personnel policy, finally worked out between County Administrator and Personnel Director Alan Bruce and the County Personnel Commission, hit a snag when it went before county supervisors today.

The snag was Supervisor William D. Fusselman who objected strongly to the opening paragraphs of the statement saying, that they were in effect an insult to the integrity of the supervisors.

This statement, in outlining the goals of the county personnel policy, said that the county should insure that "job security is not affected by patronage."

Fusselman wanted to know the reasons for such a statement.

Bruce said the statement could easily be removed and that it only summarized the ordinance. But other supervisors, after recessing five minutes for coffee, returned with a decision to continue the personnel policy matter until next week.

This was apparently with the hope that the policy would be more easily approved when Supervisor Peter Behr returns from vacation.

Anti-Digit Dialing Party Set Thursday

The Marin Chapter of the Anti-Digit Dialing League will have a fund raising party at 8 p.m., Thursday at Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon, acting chairman Neil Davis said today.

A donation at the door, Davis said, will provide the person with an ADDL membership card and permits free admission to next month's fund-raising parties at the Hungri I and Old Spaghetti Factory in San Francisco.

area 17 miles northwest of Redding.

"It's still running wild on the east, southeast and northeast," said a state forestry spokesman. "They're fighting along a 16-mile fire line."

(San Quentin and San Anselmo civil defense disaster trucks were dispatched last night to the forest fire raging in Lake County.

(The San Quentin truck, with Officer E. A. Larson in charge of two inmates, left shortly before midnight, a prison official said, and will join 60 inmates and four officers sent yesterday in a Greyhound bus to the fire area.

(The prison personnel constitute part of San Quentin's emergency fire fighting crew which is specially selected and trained.

(San Anselmo firemen Marty Marcucci and Keith Collett were to report to the State Division of Forestry office in Kelseyville and remain as long as needed or until relieved by other San Anselmo firemen.

(Resort owner George Hoberg, in a telephone interview with radio station KTIM at 10 a.m., said the fire, which came within one quarter mile of Hoberg's, appeared nearly contained.

(Hoberg said his guests and staff were removed yesterday as a precaution, but that staff members were returning this morning, and that the resort would be doing business as usual over the weekend.)

California State Fair On Tomorrow

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California shows off the best of its farm produce, livestock, industry and home cooking when the 12-day State Fair opens tomorrow.

The big State Fairgrounds on Sacramento's Stockton Boulevard are expected to be crowded by visitors to the traditional agricultural, commercial and homemaking displays.

There will also be a space age touch when fair President Farrell Wrenn tries to hold an opening day conversation via the Telstar satellite with Floeke Claeson, president of the St. Erick's Fair in Stockholm Sweden.

Tomorrow night, Gov. Edmund G. Brown will officiate at the formal opening ceremonies.

Horse racing will be held daily except Sunday, with a new post time at 2 p.m. Labor Day racing will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Band Leader Lawrence Welk will perform in front of the grandstand on Sept. 4, 5 and 6.

Other attractions include a nightly rodeo, a bowling tournament and fireworks.

Governor Brown said yesterday he will ask for more money for fairs in 1963, because of the necessity of replacing the grandstand at the Alameda County Fair in Pleasanton.

Brown said the Alameda project will cost more than one million dollars while the planned appropriation for all fair buildings in the state was only 2.25 million dollars.

He said the recent system of allocating capital outlay money for fairs on the basis of need, rather than a flat $65,000 a year for each fair had resulted in savings of more than $500,000 a year.

Finance Director Hale Champion said those savings could be made available for two years to cover the Alameda project.

The Public Works Board allocated 2.4 million dollars for the new fair facilities, expected to be completed in time for the 1963 shows.

Food Prices Help Hike Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Higher prices for major food items and services pushed the cost of living to a new all-time peak in July, the labor department reported today.

The increase chipped another two cents off the buying power of the consumer's $10 bill. It also triggered penny-an-hour pay boosts for 950,000 workers in auto, farm equipment and aerospace industries.

The department said its consumer price index rose by two-tenths of 1 per cent last month to 105.5 per cent of average 1957-59 prices.

A spokesman said the advance was in line with seasonal expectations, however, since the index has climbed in July every year since 1950.

Higher prices for pork, milk and eggs were the major causes of a rise of three-tenths of 1 per cent rise in food prices. The price of services—medical care, haircuts and public transportation and similar items — also helped push up the index.

The July increase put the index at 1.1 per cent above its year-ago level. Most of the increases occurred during the first six months of this year.

In the housewife's terms, the index means it costs now $10.55 to buy the same goods and services that could have been obtained with a $10 bill five years ago.

Arnold Chase, labor department price expert, said an unusually cool summer produced increased consumer demand for meat with a consequent increase in prices for pork and beef.

Average good prices held steady over the year, however, and only a sharp rise in restaurant meal costs forced up the food index.

About 780,000 workers in the auto and auto parts industries, 75,000 in Caterpillar and International Harvester plants and 65,000 Aerospace workers are due one cent hourly increases as a result of the July rise.

Their pay is tied to the index through escalator clauses in labor-management contracts.

Another 30,000 workers employed by metal working firms also will get penny-an-hour wage boosts. Some 15,000 trucking firm employees in Virginia, the Carolinas and Seattle, will receive three-cent increases.

Meantime, the take-home pay and buying power of the average factory worker dipped from record-high June levels due to a reduction in working hours and the advance in prices.

The pay of an average factory worker with a family of four dropped to $85.53 after federal taxes. His buying power fell about 1 per cent but still was 2 per cent higher than July, 1961.

SMALL MOTOR ACE IN HOLE

Venus Rocket Is Not Too Far Off Course For Corrections

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) —A small ace-in-the-hole motor weighing 37.3 pounds is the big key to America's attaining the world's most significant interplanetary achievement — shooting the Mariner 2 spacecraft on an exploratory mission past Venus.

If the complex space messenger sweeps within 10,000 miles of Venus in December as planned—after a 180-million mile trip—it would mark a major breakthrough for the United States in the race for space.

Information relayed by Mariner 2 could help scientists and astronomers unravel secrets concealed for centuries by the planet's constant cloud layers. It could determine whether life as we know it possibly could exist on the planet, something doubted by most scientists.

The spacecraft motor became all-important yesterday when analysis of tracking data indicated an excellent chance Mariner 2 can be directed from the ground to the vicinity of Venus even though it is far off course.

The critical firing of the motor by ground signal is scheduled tentatively for next Tuesday, Sept. 4, after the flight path, alignment, speed and other factors have been carefully computed.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration expressed much concern shortly after the launching when early tracking indicated the spacecraft trajectory was off by as much as 600,000 miles. This would have been too great for the midcourse motor, which has a capability of correcting an error up to 500,000 miles.

It is essential that the probe approach within 25,000 miles of Venus if it is to gather the desired measurements.

Several hours later, however, refinement of tracking signals revealed Mariner 2's error was only 250,000 miles. Project officials announced the "space craft is on a trajectory that can be corrected to make it fly by Venus within a distance of 10,000 miles as planned."

The trajectory error was caused by an unexplained rolling motion executed by the first stage of the Atlas-Agena B booster rocket.

While appearing confident the experiment would succeed all the way to the December encounter with Venus, the officials cautioned that many important functions must take place before the signal to ignite the engine is beamed from the tracking station at Goldstone.

Heart Attack Victim

Mrs. Isabella Cheda of 234 Bayview Street, San Rafael, was in satisfactory condition today in Marin General Hospital, where she is recovering from a heart attack earlier this month. A hospital spokesman said her condition is improving. Mrs. Cheda is first vice president of the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club.

Patrolman Saves Woman On Bridge

"Why didn't you let me jump?" a San Mateo housewife demanded yesterday as a California Highway Patrolman pulled her back from the Golden Gate Bridge railing near the north tower.

Patrolman M. G. Williams, who went to the rescue at 10 a.m. apparently just in time after Mrs. Marjorie Mulligan, 32, had stopped her station wagon and seemingly prepared to leap over, found Mrs. Mulligan "confused" and she was sent for observation to San Francisco General Hospital.

Girls Better Readers; Boys Said Brighter

BUFFALO (UPI) — A college teacher says girls are better readers than boys, but a boy is generally the brightest student in an elementary school classroom.

"Girls are better readers," Dr. Lawrence Carrillo, associate professor at San Francisco State College yesterday told a summer reading institute here, "while boys have a greater reading range.

"Girls ordinarily don't have reading problems. The primary classroom is basically a woman's world and girls tend to adapt to it better. Boys tend to fight the system more and if they fight the system, they don't learn as much."

However, he said the wider reading range and greater capacity of boys generally results in the brightest pupil in a class being a boy.

Dr. Carrillo told 55 teachers, administrative personnel and consultants at the institute that boys outnumber girls 10 to one in having difficulties in learning to read and have speech problems five times more than girls.

Larkspur Council Meeting Tomorrow

The Larkspur City Council will hold a special meeting in city hall at 8 p.m. tomorrow to set next fiscal year's tax rate, city clerk Isabelle Moore announced today.

When the council last month informally adopted a preliminary budget of $370,194, more than $27,000 above last year, it was indicated that most residents would pay a higher tax rate.

MASSACRE FOR GOLD?

100-Year-Old Deaths Spark Investigation

MONTEREY (UPI) — The recent discovery of the scattered bones of at least 10 persons, apparently killed in a massacre about a century ago, has touched off an investigation by an anthropologist, local historians and sheriff's deputies.

There are also rumors of $350,000 in gold involved.

The remains were found by a group of amateur explorers in a hidden cave near Willow Creek, a thriving gold-mining community about 100 years ago. Willow Creek lies 68 miles south of Monterey.

University of California anthropologist Grover Krantz said the skulls indicated that at least nine of the victims were Indians, several of them female, and one was a European, possibly a Spaniard.

Further analysis showed the skulls had been fractured, apparently by heavy blows.

The bones were found near the entrance of the cave at levels ranging from 50 to 100 feet below the opening. Officials from the sheriff's and coroner's offices said the victims probably were killed somewhere else and hurled into the cavern.

According to historical documents, a group of Indians from San Antonio Mission, 15 miles from the cave, started out with a Spanish soldier and $350,000 in gold for a rendezvous with a galleon on the coast.

The party never reached the coast—and one of the theories advanced by local historians is that the group may have been attacked, robbed and killed.

Other historians believe the victims may have been members of an Indian tribe which was attacked by another hostile tribe in the area, or that the victims may have been working a secret mine and were killed by other prospectors.

Liquor License Hearing Continued

Hearings on a liquor license application by a Mill Valley market have been continued indefinitely, the State Alcoholic Beverage Control office in Santa Rosa said today.

Leet Enterprises Inc., owners of the Golden Gate Market, 64 East Blithedale Avenue, have applied for a license now owned by William and Florence Collins in San Francisco.

Charges of misrepresentation are pending against the Collinses, and hearings were scheduled yesterday and today in San Rafael by the ABC board. A new date for hearings on the charges and the Leet petition to buy the contested license will be announced later, ABC spokesman said.

$1.80 Tax Rate In Fairfax Is Approved–Up 55 Cents

A tax rate of $1.80 per $100 assessed valuation was approved for the City of Fairfax for fiscal 1963 last night by the city council at a special 20-minute meeting.

The tax rate includes $1.44 cents for a general fund of $125,000, 22 cents for a retirement fund of $18,400 and 14 cents for the city parks budget of $12,400.

City Clerk Alice Leonesio said the city's total proposed budget will include monies from other sources such as sales tax and state funds. The council will consider budget revisions Sept. 4 at 8 p.m.

Last year's tax rate was $1.25, and the final budget was $220,270.

Councilman Freeman Blake was absent at the brief meeting called only to set the new tax rate.

Warburg Blasts Highway Motel Plan But Application Is Passed

Marin County's "entrance" area should be lovely to look at but current developments along Highway 101 aren't contributing to that effect, an architect members of the Marin County Planning Commission complained yesterday.

At issue was an application by Charles M. Mowers for architectural supervision of a 21-unit motel planned for an area just south of the Colonel's Ranch Wagon restaurant west of the highway, and north of the new Sabella's restaurant by the Richardson Bay Bridge.

"Thirty feet from a frontage road and 50 feet from a freeway is not the place for a swimming pool," criticized Commissioner Felix M. Warburg, who went on to say that the building plans didn't look attractive either and that "it will be for your own interest as a commercial concern to put forth greater effort."

Warburg said the new Sabella's hadn't impressed him favorably and when told that plans of the motel had struck others so well that another structure might go up in the same style alongside he snorted, "That's not good either," adding that builders shouldn't merely copy nearby styles but try to do something better.

But the application finally squeaked through on a 3-2 vote with Commissioner Charles R. Johnson joining Warburg in dissent.

Architectural supervision was also granted Inverness Lodge plans for 10 cabin units on a 58-acre site south of the Point Reyes-Inverness road across from the Camino Del Mar intersection a mile north of Inverness. Use permit was recently granted following failure of the lodge management to win approval of neighbors for extending its own facilities in a residential area.

Leslie Smith drew complaints from seemingly most of the 47 residents of Muir Beach on his application for a "community boat house" use permit.

Letters of complaint were so numerous that most were read in excerpt form and Smith withdrew his application under the avalanche of outraged criticism, much of it centering around the point that there had been no public discussion, that the site was impossible, and that the deal was only a private venture anyhow.

Smith said he actually had meant only to build for himself and a few friends but allow use of the building for community purposes. He said he still hoped for an adjustment for some sort of construction and this was continued for further information.

George J. McKegney's use permit for keeping two horses on a six-acre lot south of Vistazo East Street in Tiburon, held up because of complaints that another horse had created a fly menace, was granted yesterday after it was found that the other horse had departed along with the flies.

Approval was given master plan for the Pell property, a 40,000-square-foot parcel on the southwest corner of the intersection of Knoll Lane with South Knoll Road in Alto where only recently a log-jam was broken on a number of items held up for possible overall Tiburon Peninsula changes. This project will have 28 units in three buildings.

The Novato Trap Club was granted use permit to established a trap and skeet-shooting club on ranch land between San Antonio Creek and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad a quarter-mile east of Highway 101 and north of Burdell Station, three and one-half miles north of Novato on a five-acre site.

Drivers Hurt In Separate Accidents

A solitary motorist and a motorcycle rider were injured in two separate accidents in Marin County yesterday afternoon and evening, with extensive injuries to the former.

Fred Kay Hassfeld of 1325 Denlyn Street, Novato, was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today after suffering severe bruises of the right chest and nine broken ribs on the San Geronimo-Nicasio road a mile south of the Lucas Valley road intersection.

Hassfeld told the California Highway Patrol that while trying to light a cigarette he let his car drift off into the dirt on a left turn at 7:45 p.m., hitting a culvert almost head-on.

Billy Morris Downs, a Cotati machinist, was riding his motorcycle south on Highway 101 near the Puerto Suello Hill North of San Rafael at 3:45 p.m.

A car stopped suddenly just ahead, he later told the patrol, and Downs tried to pass to its left. His cycle hit the divider curb and threw him off. Marin General Hospital treated him for cuts on the left arm and hand.

Twin Cities Library Talk Is Scheduled

Resident of Larkspur and Corte Madera today were invited by the Larkspur Public Library board to a special board meeting at 10:30 a.m. Sept. 4 to be addressed by Mrs. Lloyd Linton of Sausalito.

Mrs. Linton, who helped organize the Sausalito unit of the Friends of the Library, will talk on "Friends of the Library — Who They Are and What They Do."

The group, with more than 300 units throughout the nation, bears much the same relationship to libraries as parent-teacher associations to schools and alumni associations to universities, said Librarian Helen S. Wilson.

They acquire standard and rare books, support building programs and sponsor special events.

Besides units in Larkspur and Sausalito, the Friends of the Library also has a unit in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Wilson said the Larkspur library now has 17,505 books. Of a city population of 6,575 as of last May the number of active cardholders is 3,512. More than 46,000 books were issued in fiscal 1961-62.

The Larkspur library tax is nine cents on $100 of assessed valuation. Employees besides Mrs. Wilson are children's librarian Mrs. Lois Howe Rand, reference librarian Alberta Potter and a page who does the shelving.

The library is administered by a board of trustees appointed to three year terms by the city council.

The present Larkspur Library Board consists of Chairman Mrs. Robert Bowen, Mrs. Wilbur Lewis, Mrs. Philip Haly, Mrs. Frederick Brenlin and Mrs. Howard Ray.

Marin Attorney Honored

Assistant U.S. Atty. Charles Elmer Collett of Mill Valley was presented the Sustained Superior Performance Award of the U.S. Department of Justice yesterday in ceremonies in the San Francisco office of U.S. Atty. Cecil F. Poole.

Collett, 59, is one of 129 to receive the department award this year. Only 38 outside Washington, D.C., received it.

It was by no means the first honor Collett has received in his career.

He was elected captain of the U.S. water polo team in the 1924 Paris Olympics. He also was given the Bronze Star for bravery in saving many shipmates when the escort carrier St. Lo was sunk in the Battle of the Philippine Sea during World War II. He was intelligence officer on the ship.

His most recent award, accompanied by $500 cash, was signed by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy. In presenting it, Poole said:

"The award, designed to recognize great professional competence and extraordinary service to the department, is annually given to those nominees deemed to be the most outstanding."

Collett joined the U.S. Attorney's staff in 1942, just prior to entering the Navy. His job was waiting for him when he returned after four years in the Pacific and the Aleutians. In 1953, he was called for a year and a half of active duty, serving in the Pentagon. He is a captain in the Navy Reserve.

He is a graduate of Stanford University and Hastings School of Law. He is now chief of the civil division in the U.S. Attorney's office.

Collett and his wife, Marjory, live at 270 Molino Avenue, their home since moving to Marin County 12 years ago. They have four children, Joan, 20, Elmer, 17, Cedric, 16, and Brian, 14.

Collett, a native of San Francisco, has many interests and activities in local projects. He is an amateur actor, playing in little theater in San Francisco and in Marin County. He also helps with Little League and Pony League baseball.

Point Reyes Commercial Zoning Pushed

Attorney Benjamin P. Bonelli told the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday that unless by October there has been federal action to condemn Point Reyes Peninsula subdivision property for a national seashore, he will insist that the county rezone to allow needed commercial and apartment development on a basis of private use.

"There has been an urgent need for a service station there for a year," said Bonelli for developers of 1,000-acre Drake's Beach Estates. "Hundreds are going there on weekends and a grocery store is also needed. We who are on the scene know there is a demand for apartment space.

"If the government wants our property we'll not talk of further development. Zoning won't affect land values anyway for they are established. But it is still questionable about government purchase—the amount they are asking for the whole park is probably not enough to acquire just this property."

Commissioner Felix Warburg suggested that weekend travelers don't run out of fuel or food at such a nearby point as the peninsula and argued that "they take their supplies along and won't buy."

"Wait a minute!" cried Bonelli. "We've been told that Marin County taxes were going to be cut in half by what the people will buy by the park"

Planning director B. D. Dobbs said that "we will concede that all is not known about what the government may do" and acting chairman Niels Schultz Jr. added that "I don't think we should let things hang on the hook forever waiting for federal government action." But he complained that the commission hadn't been given full facts as to areas involved in the proposed zoning.

Bonelli said that for two months the developers have been discussing details with the planning staff, and that the whole subject has dragged along for three years. But he consented to continuance to Oct. 1 when he indicated he wanted a showdown.

San Francisco Death Victim Burial Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The search for a garrulous, will-o'-the-wisp grandmother for questioning about two stranglings had a sad footnote today—the burial of Jay Arneson.

His two sons from San Diego arranged for formal military rites at Golden Gate National Cemetery for the 70 year-old retired Army major.

Arneson and his wife, Mildred, 58, were found buried under a concrete slab in the basement of the home of Ralph and Iva Kroeger in San Francisco.

The Kroegers and the Arnesons met when the latter operated a motel in Santa Rosa. Then Mr. and Mrs. Arneson disappeared. And Mrs. Kroeger took over operation of the motel.

The bodies were discovered a week ago and since then a massive search has been under way for the 44-year-old Mrs. Kroeger.

Her husband is in jail, charged with murder. He denies any knowledge of the disappearance, strangling and burial of the Arnesons.

Jack T. Arneson, 35, real estate consultant for the San Diego School District, and Dick Arneson, 52, San Diego real estate broker, arranged for the military funeral for their father.

The Conestoga wagon, which carried freight in the East and pioneers in the West, was named for the place where it was first made in Pennsylvania.

The present-day Seneca population numbers about 4,200 Indians.

Planners Due Northgate Dirt Plea

A request by the Draper interests for a use permit to remove more than a million cubic yards of dirt and rock from their Northgate Regional Shopping Center to the Draper Industrial Park across the highway will be considered tonight by the San Rafael City Planning Commission.

In other business, the commission will take another look at plans for a 92-unit apartment project proposed by William C. McDuffie and Edward Wachsman at Woodland Avenue and DuBois Street. Plans were turned back to the proponents at the last meeting because the contemplated wood structure would not meet city fire zone requirements.

Still other matters on the agenda include a proposed zoning ordinance amendment to establish a zoning variance procedure to meet special development problems; an amendment to permit keeping horses in residential areas; an amendment to regulate signs in all commercial districts and a number of requests for rezoning, use permits and architectural approval.

House Group Rejects Jobless Pay Extension

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee rebuffed President John F. Kennedy today by rejecting 13 to 12 his request for another extension of jobless payments for workers who have exhausted their benefits.

The action was a stunning setback for Kennedy. He had listed the bill as one of several that should be enacted to help the government fight recession without an immediate tax cut.

Some leaders talked of seeking reconsideration of the committee vote, but this avenue was not regarded as promising for the administration.

On the showdown, nine Republicans and four Democrats voted against the extension. Eleven Democrats and one Republican voted for it.

The legislation would have provided up to 13 weeks additional unemployment compensation for some 850,000 workers whose benefits have run out. The extension would have run from Oct. 1, 1962 until March 31, 1963.

The vote appeared to come as a shock to House leaders. The legislation has had bipartisan support in the past and not too much trouble was expected.

Natural Gas Price Regulation Gaining

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —The Federal Power Commission is making much progress toward eventual reduction in its backlog of cases involving regulation of natural gas prices at the wellhead, according to FPC vice chairman Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr.

He made the statement yesterday to convention of the Independent Natural Gas Assn. of America.

O'Connor said progress in price regulations was being made by pressing ahead vigorously with the FPC's area rate concept, with which the commission hopes to establish ceiling production prices in 23 different pricing areas rather than from individual producers.

The vice chairman said the rate concept was being developed in the Permian Basin case which involves some Texas and New Mexico producers and which has been given priority.

O'Connor said the progress in the case has been "heartening" and it will serve as a model for similar cases in the future. He said the case developed important procedural changes and principles which will speed future cases.

Harold Decker, prominent Houston gas producer and president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, disputed O'Connor's claims.

Decker said the Permian Basin hearing has been underway for a year and that the FPC finds itself with "even more questions unanswered than it had before."

He said the area pricing approach made flexibility of prices impossible and that the consumer would suffer as a result. He strongly urged producers to resume their fight against federal regulation of pricing at the wellhead.

Catholics Asked To Snub Schools

BURAS, La. (AP) — The superintendent of public schools in Plaquemines Parish has urged Roman Catholic parents to take their children out of parochial schools rather than accept desegregation.

"I am a Catholic, but when my church starts fighting me, I am going to fight back," said the school official, Sam A. Moncla.

Moncla told a group of about 600 Catholic parents last night that the public schools have facilities to educate Catholic children removed from parochial schools.

The parents attended a hastily called meeting to discuss an announcement that a parochial school in Buras would be desegregated next month. The parish is in the archdiocese of New Orleans which was directed last spring by Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel to accept all pupils regardless of race in its parochial schools.

Moncla joined Paris Council President Leander H. Perez, who was excommunicated for defying the church desegregation edict, in urging Catholic parents to boycott parochial schools if they accept Negro students.

Christopher Vows Economy Fight

Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco promised Novato Young Republicans last night he would be "the strong right arm" of the governor when he is elected lieutenant governor in November.

Speaking before about 60 persons in Novato's Tomahawk Lodge, the Republican candidate said he would use his knowledge of economics to go into every office and agency in state government to insist on economy.

In the 3½ years Gov. Edmund G. Brown has been in office, the state budget has increased one billion dollars, he said. It took 100 years for the state to reach the first billion dollar budget.

The governor's proposed $2½ million tax cut to all persons now paying $10 or less in state income tax, is "negligible" and Christopher would "prefer "a real tax revision program." He agreed that cost of bookkeeping on the $5 per year payments made them inadvisable, but said Brown could more easily "save that 2½ million by eliminating two or three of his excess bureaus."

Gayle Shotwell, Novato YR president, presided and introduced Christopher, who also said:

The Francis anti-Communist amendment probably will be declared unconstitutional or be challenged so often in court as to be useless. "The mechanics are so out of line I can't see how it would be helpful."

He never has agreed with Robert Welch about President Eisenhower or other public officials; can not accept the secrecy or the predetermined policies of the John Birch Society—"if you don't agree with their precepts, you have to withdraw; that's not democratic." And the "Birchers are not speaking for the Republican Party; ever so many Democrats are in it too."

Khrushchev wants no hot war; he believes we'll "spend ourselves to death and we will too unless we stop this spending with reckless abandon."

As to his opponent, the mayor kept asking "now what was his name?" He referred to him as "a man of little capacity" who has gotten his name in the paper because he favors a monument on Alcatraz. If he's so anxious to do something, he might, as a member of the Toll Bridge Authority, get rid of the Hump in the Bay Bridge. If he'd do that, I'd almost get out of the race and let him have it."

New Reading Program Due Novato Board

A new reading program for Novato's first, second and third graders will be presented to the Novato Unified School District board of trustees when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the district office, 1015 Seventh Street in Novato.

The program, the result of recommendations from the Novato School goals committee, will be based "more firmly on phonics than is generally the case," according to Supt. James G. Bunker. The program, designed by Paul Mobley, new curriculum director, and Bunker, would be used in all elementary schools in the district beginning this fall.

Trustees are also expected to take action on an administrative code presented at the last meeting by Bunker. Among other action, the board will discuss the status of site acquisition of the Rancho School on South Novato Boulevard and a site for the Sutro School on Sutro Avenue.

Yank Believed Taken Off Train To Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — West Berlin police said today a young man believed to be American was taken off a Berlin-bound train by Communist police Sunday.

Passengers on the train reported the incident, police said.

The passengers said a man, about 20 and seemingly an American, was taken from a Hamburg-Berlin train at the East German Griebnitzsee control point outside Berlin at 10 p.m. because he did not have a visa to travel through East Germany.

It was not known what happened to the man.

Western observers said it was possible the East German border guards put the man on a train returning to West Germany.

Early this month, Communist guards took a British woman tourist off a Berlin-bound train at the same border checkpoint and sent her back to the West.

A U.S. Army battle group, fresh from live-firing exercises in West Germany, fanned out today across the American sector of Berlin to demonstrate their readiness to meet any sudden Communist attack.

Janitor Is Charged With Bank Larceny

The San Francisco janitor who was believed to have taken money from cash drawers at the Wells Fargo American National Bank in Mill Valley on Sunday was today charged in federal court with bank larceny.

Samuel George Thompson, 31, was placed in custody of the U.S. marshal, under a $1,000 bond, and is to come up for plea tomorrow before a federal court judge, according to Frank Price, FBI agent in charge in San Francisco.

The janitor was arrested by Mill Valley police early yesterday morning after it was discovered $12 in one dollar bills had been taken from four cash drawers in the bank. Thompson had been cleaning up the bank with fellow janitor, Ronald Kennedy, 19, of 1 Cole Drive, Marin City.

Kennedy was also arrested but was released. Officers had found one $1 marked bill in Thompson's possession.

Investigation is continuing, Price said.

Rezoning Approved On S. Novato Boulevard

Rezoning of 4.6 acres of land owned by Richard and Olivia Connell south of the Nave Shopping Center on South Novato Boulevard was approved last night by a 4-0 vote of the Novato Planning Commission.

A protest against rezoning the property from agricultural to commercial use was registered by Novato School District Supt. James G. Bunker. Bunker said the district will need the land to add to the Rancho School site on South Novato Boulevard, which will be depleted approximately two acres when Hill Board is extended. Bunker said later that the district does not intend to stop negotiations for purchase of the land, even if rezoning is approved by the city council Sept. 11.

Commissioner Donald R. Hoffmann was absent last night, and Commissioner Alfred Bellucci vacated his seat for the vote, giving as reason a possible conflict of interest since his real estate firm is involved in the sale of the land. Commissioners had voted 3-1 at the last meeting for the rezoning, but planning advisor Robert Lagle ruled that a majority of the entire seven man commission had to approve the change.

Commissioners approved plans for zoning two acres of a land for planned residential use on the east side of Railroad Avenue near Orange Avenue owned by L. Von Tagen and J. Butler; it gave approval for similar zoning to lots 2 through 16 in the Essner Park subdivision off Madrone Avenue. The property is owned by Harry Johnson. A hearing on the zoning was set for Sept. 24.

In other action, commissioners denied approval of a 16-lot subdivision planned for 10.7 acres of land on Ridge Road near Canyon Road owned by Katherin Ecob. Commissioners said roads planned for the subdivision are too narrow for the steep hill and would not be safe.

The commission also:

1. Approved building of a temporary tract office at 180 Fairway Drive in the Marin Golf and Country Club Estates subdivision subject to a parking plan and landscaping.

2. Approved installation of a sign reading "Delicatessen—Canada Dry" at the northeast corner of Highway 101 and Grant Avenue on property owned by Louis Nave.

3. Approved a two-lot subdivision at 1715 Novato Boulevard on land owned by John N. Olrich subject to his dedicating land 20 feet at the front of the property for possible future widening of the boulevard.

Hillside Residents Object To 3 Houses

Protests are expected to be made to the Mill Valley Planning Commission tonight by a number of Hillside residents who object to three houses proposed to be built on Magee Avenue in the 100 block all of the same design.

Petitions, being circulated by Mrs. Richard Nelson, Robert Warnick and Mrs. Shelley Roth have 20 signatures. The primary objection to the proposed homes is against the creation of three lots out of one owned by Brennan Enos of San Anselmo and E. G. Leggett of Sausalito.

But, according to Mrs. Richard Nelson, signers of the petition also object to the fact the developers want to build three homes all of the same design. "We object esthetically," said Mrs. Nelson. She added that in their neighborhood each house is of a different design.

Marinites Give Needed Blood

Some of the rare blood needed in open heart surgeries in San Francisco hospitals today was taken from donors at the Marin County Blood Bank, 406 Fourth Street, San Rafael, yesterday.

Bank supervisor Mrs. Claudia Bessing said that five donors gave type B negative while one gave type O negative blood. Other donations helped supply the large quantities of blood needed in a total of six heart operations today.

The Marin donations were picked up by representatives of the Erwin Memorial Blood bank, yesterday afternoon.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Transylvania University is the oldest institution of higher education west of the Allegheny Mountains.

It was founded in 1783 as Transylvania Seminary. The Presbyterian-affiliated university moved from Crow's Station to Lexington in 1792 and took its present name six years later.

NBC Post For Ex-Marinite

A former Marin County resident and San Francisco newspaperman has been named the new San Francisco news manager of the National Broadcasting Co.

Appointment of Albert S. Burchard, now national assignment editor for NBC News, was announced today by William R. McAndrew, executive vice president of NBC News.

McAndrew said the appointment is one of a series of moves to strengthen NBC news coverage in San Francisco.

Burchard has been with NBC News since 1958.

Head Librarian In Sausalito Quits

Mrs. Josephine Ripley, head librarian at the Sausalito Public Library since Jan. 23, 1961, has resigned her position effective Sept. 1.

The resignation was announced yesterday by Mrs. George C. Cummings, president of the library board, who would not state Mrs. Ripley's reasons but said the action came following an executive session of the board. Mrs. Ripley, who lives in San Rafael but is vacationing in Mexico, could not be reached for comment.

Mrs. Dolly Georgetti, children's librarian, will be acting head librarian until a successor is appointed and extra assistants will be employed as necessary, Mrs. Cummings said.

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP)—Farmers tend to think of hunters who shoot domestic animals as either vandals or idiots, O. W. Nierman is certain he was the victim of the idiot variety.

Take Close Look At Marin's Exhibit At The State Fair

Tomorrow night in Sacramento the lights go on for the annual California State Fair.

As always it will be the "biggest and best in history." As always, we encourage you to make the trip to Sacramento between now and Admission Day to view the state on display.

We do this for two reasons this year

First, we think you will enjoy the fair; we always do. It has beauty, entertainment, competition, education, fun and, if you enjoy the bangtails, gambling.

Second, we want you particularly to take a look at the Marin County exhibit. It's different than ever before.

Three years ago Marin County became an exhibitor again after many years of being unrepresented at the Fair. The first year the county merely put the scale model of the new Civic Center on display.

Then, with the cooperation of many Marin groups and individuals, the county staged a "live" show for visitors, an unique exhibit for the county's building. But the static display on exhibit when the "live" show was not on, brought complaints from residents.

Last year the county offered a more conventional exhibit designed by local people, amateurs in fair exhibit design. This year, the supervisors, on advice of an advisory committee, hired a professional fair designer (also from Marin) to plan the county's display. So this year it will be quite different.

We want the county's exhibit at the State Fair to represent the people of the county. So while we're encouraging you to visit the Fair to have a good time, we also want you to go in order to take a critical look at what Marin County is offering as a reflection of yourself.

Then let the Board of Supervisors and its advisory committee know what you think.

And do have a lot of fun at the Fair.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

TOO MANY DOGS FOR THE CATCHER

Two days on the job convinced one dogcatcher that he had better find another niche in life.

The Philadelphia man resigned his position because, as he put it, "the township and the dogs are too big."

"There's no fooling the dogs," he conceded. "They let you chase them all over but by the time you get the net out—they're gone!"

Anyone who holds a position in the public interest, however large or small, deserves the thoughtful consideration of the people he serves.

By the same token, if you aspire to such a position yourself, be prepared for hardships, setbacks and suffering.

In times of discouragement when the temptation comes to quit a difficult job, ask yourself what would happen if everybody decided to abdicate their responsibilities.

The Lord will bless you if you at least try to carry out the work you have undertaken. Once you have done your best, you can leave the rest to Him.

"No one, having put his hand to the plow and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God." (Luke 9:62)

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Two Democrats Rubbed Together And Convention Was Blown Apart

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Everything had been serene and friendly in the State Capitol as the Democratic state convention and State Central Committee meeting progressed. Then Blooie! Two Democrats rubbed against each other, unity was blasted clear out of the chambers along with the meeting and unfinished business.

'CHIP' DAY

The two Democrats that rubbed were Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh of Los Angeles and State Sen. George Miller Jr. of Martinez. But behind them were the shadows of intra-party conflict. This was the situation:

Unruh, who has risen to party dominance on pure power politics, introduced a resolution ostensibly aimed at divorcing the Democratic Party from both the right and the left wing. As written, Unruh had set up procedures to "deny membership in any organization which is chartered by an official arm of the Democratic Party or any organization which bears the name 'Democrat' or 'Democratic' to any member of the Communist Party, the John Birch Society or any other totalitarian group."

The resolutions committee worked out a smoother version to present to the meeting. It "repudiates all forms of totalitarianism of the left or right." Then it goes on to call upon all candidates to repudiate support of "such totalitarian organizations" as the Birchers and the Communists.

If the resolution had stopped there, everything would have been fine. But, changing Unruh's language slightly, it pledged "to take all legal steps to deny membership in any of the official or semi-official branches of the Democratic Party to members of any totalitarian organizations . . ."

AND THERE'S where the sparks flew. Senator Miller interpreted this as a power move by Unruh to gain a hold over the Democratic clubs through investigation of their membership rolls.

"The effect may well be to create a type of witch-hunting in the Democratic Party that we oppose so vigorously in our platform. If we attempt to eject 30 or 35 Communists from the Democratic Party (later he said that was a figure proponents were 'tossing around'), we're liable to destroy it. Our party is big enough to accommodate people with unpopular views."

Unruh took the floor to point out "every Democrat knew we were going to condemn the John Birch Society and the Communist Party. We all say it in every speech we make. We're under obligation to put it in writing."

Tom Carvey, president of the California Democratic Council, backed Miller and Jerome R. Waldie of Antioch, Unruh's seatmate and protege in the Assembly, assisted Unruh.

Phillip Burton, San Francisco assemblyman who didn't want the resolution at all, fumed ineffectively around the hall.

A voice vote was called on Miller's motion to strike out the last two paragraphs of the resolution. Assemblyman Tom Bane of Tujunga was presiding in place of newly-elected Chairman Eugene L. Wyman, who ducked this first big battle of his administration.

Bane, an Unruh supporter, heard the shouts of "Aye" and "No" then announced the amendments had been defeated. Bedlam reigned as delegates screamed for roll call; then voted vocally inconclusively; stood and were counted twice, before it was decided the roll call would be held.

When the votes were tallied (Marin voted 22 for Miller and 2 for Unruh), Miller's amendments had won 193 to 267.

But Unruh wasn't licked yet. If he couldn't have it his way, he wasn't going to play. He called attention to the total vote, 460, and said it was less than a quorum. It was; 12 less.

There was nothing to be done. The meeting adjourned without acting on Unruh's resolution or a dozen other resolutions, including those on Point Reyes Seashore and cross filing.

WHAT HAPPENS now?

Wyman answered this way: "We'll see what's on the unfinished business file then Roger (Kent) and I will sit down and decide when to call an executive committee meeting—probably in September."

Will the Unruh resolution be considered and if so with or without the last two paragraphs?

"We'll have to see. Miller's objections are based on legality of the sections. How can we stop a Communist from registering in the Democratic Party? We'll have to look into it," Wyman said. "There is concern we may be coming up with a Francis Amendment of our own."

Please, Son, Bring Fishing Pole Back

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Saturday morning, Aug. 18, I was passing the corner of Ross and San Anselmo Avenues in San Anselmo. Two boys on bikes and carrying their fishing poles were riding along when one of them had a spill.

I ran out into the intersection to help untangle the boy from his bike. He was not hurt. However, his fishing pole was broken and this began to hurt his feelings. (His day of fishing was ruined.)

I asked these boys (brothers) to come along with me to my children's home and that I would loan them a pole. I told these boys they could return the pole the next time they were in San Anselmo.

This boy was grateful and they went their way.

Now all I know about these boys is that they live in San Rafael, they are brothers and their father has been in the hospital lately. I am sure they intend to return the pole, however, I wish to take my children on a fishing trip this coming Saturday (Sept. 1)—and we are short a pole.

I believe this boy does not know how to find his way back to 54 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo. I hope this boy can find 54 Mariposa because I wish to extend a kindness to my own children and take them fishing.

County Being %ed To Death

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A raise in the water rate was inevitable, the question was only—when. There was too much sweetness and light emanating from a source where none had come before.

I resent this raise for many reasons . . . I resent being told it's only 10% . . . One of these days we're all going to realize there's only 100% in a whole. This county is being %ed to death.

I resent being invited to attend a reception in an elaborate edifice that is being paid for by me.

I resent the building being larger and more elaborate than any school building in the county. I resent schools being too crowded for lack of money while the halls alone in the water building would house hundreds of pupils.

I resent the huge offices in that building holding one desk and one drawing table while our children don't have room for rainy day activities.

I resent school bonds being voted down time after time while this particular monument to public apathy stands to remind us of just how lopsided our county economy has become.

I resent, and bitterly, telling our family that we must drive our old car one more year, let our home deteriorate more and more in order to lay aside another slice of our dwindling income for new county cars, new county mansions.

Our county buildings are beautifully designed and sit on exquisite landscaping, our county officials listen to us in beautifully appointed meeting halls and sit in soft contour chairs while our juvenile hall is too crowded, our old people live in an outmoded pile of cracked cement. Our county roads are a public disgrace.

I am waiting for a neon sign to be erected upon the water company building, reading "THANK YOU"; meaning — There's one born every minute and there are more per square inch in Marin County than any other county in California, if not the world.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Help was mighty tough to come by in an out-of-the-way Missouri town, and "Pop" Miller, who ran the biggest—in fact, the only—motel thereabouts was reluctant to part with his night clerk, despite the fact that said clerk was a hopeless kleptomaniac. "Pop" Miller finally solved his problem. Over the desk in the lobby he hung this sign: "Leave your valuables with our night clerk. He'll get them anyway."

A radio quiz show moderator told the contestants, "I'm going to ask you to name some famous episodes in history associated with animals. First, what animal do we associate with Lady Godiva?" An eager young lady contestant blurted out, "Bear."

Overheard:

At a ladies' bridge tournament: "I wish you'd pay attention to the game, Harriet. We're discussing Doris' new mink coat, not Daphne's divorce."

At Aqueduct Race Track: "I haven't got a cent to bet today. My wife just blew our entire bankroll on the rent."

At a brokerage office: "This is the fourth time my husband has bought me a share of stock in a big company. You girls might as well realize it. I'm becoming a big racoon."

In a locker room: "There's only one way I can let the kids know when I'm home from the office. I walk in front of the television set."

County Library Offers No Service For 8-To-5 Worker Wanting Book

I am happy to read that the Friends of the Library will arrive in Larkspur next month to do a bit of proselytizing. The county's libraries need all the friends they can get.

Before long the main branch of the Marin County Library will move into shiny, fresh quarters in the new civic center; but it, and public libraries throughout the county, will continue to offer some of the most antiquated library service in California.

THE COUNTY library system here makes it virtually impossible for an eight to five worker to take out a book or even do a bit of browsing.

The County Library, like any good bureaucratic institution, shuts down for the day at five, precisely when most workers are free to stop by the library. The assumption seems to be not to serve the public, but to make it easy for the clerks.

The branch library where I live, in Fairfax, is stocked with mysteries, popular novels, children's books, and a scattering of giggling students—besides being poorly lighted.

A TRIP TO the San Rafael Public Library is no help. One is flatly told to stay in one's own library district. An explanation that you work in San Rafael, eat there and do most of your shopping there holds no water. You're asked for five dollars for the "privilege" of using the library.

The sophisticates and intellectuals who supposedly inhabit the county, evidently possess gigantic book collections, and don't need public libraries, because none of them has come forth to question the sort of service they get.

Less intellectual, but more progressive, counties such as Sacramento, Alameda, Santa Clara and Los Angeles, have modernized their library systems in a manner it would be pleasant to see Marin imitate.

In Sacramento County, operating on the assumption that the people who work in a city spend more money there and thus contribute to the taxes, the Sacramento Public Library issues a library card to anyone working in the city, even if he lives as far away as Placerville.

RESIDENTS OF Hollywood are free to use the Hollywood Public Library or the Los Angeles Public Library. Both stay open until nine in the evening when people can use them.

The Berkeley Public Library, besides offering a card to anyone employed or living in Berkeley, has a reciprocal agreement with the Oakland Public Library. Residents of both towns are free to use either library with one card and no "privilege" fee.

As Mrs. Virginia Keating, Marin County librarian, says: "Of course I'd like a universal reciprocal borrowing policy between our branches and the city libraries. The Larkspur Public Library is a little island surrounded by county territory. We arranged a trade agreement there. That's the ideal situation that should exist in the county."

WHY, THEN, does the county library charge the same five dollar "privilege" fee to city residents?

Replied Mrs. Keating, "As long as the city libraries have a fee, we will."

Well, now, I wonder when the co-operation will begin. I want a library to use.

TOUCHY ISSUE ON AGENDA

Britain Faces Critical Commonwealth Meet

By PETER KNOX

LONDON (UPI)—While shooting grouse on the Yorkshire moors these recent days, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan must have been thinking hard about the approaching gathering of Commonwealth prime ministers.

There is little doubt the meeting in London on Sept. 10 of the 15 leaders will be a cross-roads affair.

Unless the conference is carefully handled, the whole concept of the Commonwealth as a loose-knit body with a common heritage and the same broad aim in world affairs could be threatened.

THE LAST Commonwealth meeting in March, 1961, was a hectic affair, and ended with South Africa quitting.

The September parley promises to be equally controversial. The 15 nations coming are Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Ghana, Malaya, Nigeria, Cyprus, Sierra Leone, Tanganyika, and newly independent Jamaica and Trinidad—a United Nations in miniature covering people of many races and widely differing political beliefs.

The pop-popping of Macmillan's holiday shooting is nothing compared to the heavyweight sniping that has been going on between various members of the Commonwealth.

TRADITIONALLY when the prime ministers gather in London for their meetings —there have been 10 since the war—they hold their discussions in an informal atmosphere behind closed doors.

In this way, behind-the-scene rows are covered up and the delegates are free to talk.

This time, however, there has been such advance publicity given to Commonwealth differences it is going to be difficult to keep any major clashes quiet.

The main theme is going to be Britain's bid to join the European Common Market, about which the old white dominions have deep suspicions.

Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies, for one, has expressed fears that if Britain goes into Europe, the Commonwealth might never be the same again.

The Australians, like the New Zealanders and Canadians, are worried that they will not only lose trading preferences for their important food products, but also that Britain will become involved in European political ties damaging to the old Commonwealth links.

The Asian nations, especially India, share in these doubts about the Common Market, but the African group is little concerned.

THE AFRICAN nations, however, are likely to find themselves at odds with Britain over Britain's African policy.

The potential is here for serious trouble if this works its way onto the agenda. Ghana has become increasingly critical of the British role in Africa, and the flare-up of racial strife in Southern Rhodesia might have its repercussions in London.

He has a strong "Commonwealth First" group in his own party which would not forgive him if his policies caused a split in that body.

However, few people here anticipated that he was going to have an easy time.

Giants' Marichal To Hurl Milwaukee Opener Tonight

Orlando Cepeda has returned to his 1961 form just in time to help the San Francisco Giants through the most demanding 10 days yet encountered this year.

Between now and next Thursday, the three National League pennant contenders — San Francisco, Los Angeles and Cincinnati — will each meet the other in series that could knot the race tighter than it is now or could knock one or two teams out of contention.

While the Reds and Dodgers tangle in Los Angeles tonight, tomorrow and Thursday, the Giants will try to gain ground on the loser at the expense of visiting Milwaukee.

Juan Marichal will go after his 17th victory against nine losses when he faces Bob Shaw (15-8) in tonight's opener of a three-game series.

Cincinnati will play in Candlestick Park Friday, Saturday and Sunday, then the Giants will go to Los Angeles for four games in the park where they are 0-5 this season.

Cepeda's bat and a last-minute burst of strong efforts by the sometimes-erratic pitching staff were all that saved the Giants' road trip from becoming a complete disaster.

Four straight victories at the end of the trip enabled San Francisco to salvage a 6-6 record and remain 2½ games behind the leading Dodgers, who also suffered through a 6-6 eastern invasion. Cincinnati, winner of 18 of 23 games, is 4½ behind the Dodgers.

Cepeda's again-powerful hitting was practically a surprise after two months in which he managed just seven home runs.

But in his last six games—one at Milwaukee, two at New York, three in Philadelphia — he responded with six home runs, 11 runs batted in, 13 hits in 26 trips and an incredible slugging average of 1.308.

In short, he began to look more like the hitter who led the league in home runs and runs batted in last season.

Manager Alvin Dark said he's never seen one player carry a team as Cepeda did in the three-game Philadelphia series, where he went 9-for-13.

"They say Frank Robinson carries Cincinnati but I don't see how he can have done any more than Cepeda, nor Frank Howard, either, for the Dodgers," Dark said.

There is little doubt, however, that Cepeda's slugging must continue if the Giants are to enjoy a successful pennant drive.

Dodgers To Open Big Red Series

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Winner in 18 of their last 23 games, the slugging Cincinnati Reds open a three-game series tonight against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

A crowd of 45,000 is expected tonight as Bob Purkey (20-4), ace Cincinnati right-hander, goes against southpaw Johnny Podres (10-10).

He has won twice in Dodger Stadium, where the Dodgers have a 42-18 record this season. The Reds have beaten Podres twice; in fact, he hasn't decisioned them since July 19, 1961.

BIG 10 DAYS

The next 10 days may have a lot to do with settling the National League pennant race. While the Dodgers and Reds are battling it out here, San Francisco will be entertaining Milwaukee. The Braves come to Los Angeles after that series, and the Reds go to San Francisco. San Francisco then comes to Los Angeles for four games.

The Reds were the hottest team in the league until the Houston Colts cooled them off Sunday by taking a doubleheader. But Manager Freddie Hutchinson has his top pitchers ready for the series here. Joey Jay (20-10) goes in the second game tomorrow night against the Dodgers' Don Drysdale (22-6) and lefty Jim O'Toole (13-13) twirls the Thursday night contest against Dodger Stan Williams (12-8).

The Reds have a 31-31 record on the road and their 50-20 showing at Cincinnati is responsible for them being in contention. But Cincinnati has only 11 of 30 remaining games left at Corsley Field. The Dodgers play 21 of their 31 in Dodger Stadium and the Giants have 17 of their 32 contests left in Candlestick Park.

DODGER 'WATER' PROTEST

Although Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, has not issued any public announcement on the protest the Dodgers filed over the Giants watering down their infield, he has written a fan saying it will not happen again.

Mrs. Stuart A. Fraser wrote a letter of protest about the San Francisco groundskeepers watering the basepaths excessively and Giles replied that this constituted a violation of the spirit of the rules.

"I have so advised the San Francisco club," Giles wrote, "and I assure you that, while there is no rule covering the specific situation now, provisions will be made to prevent any recurrence of such an act at any of our parks in the future."

DON'T TOUCH ME!—Bill Skowron of the New York Yankees seems to be saying, "Don't touch me with that dirty ball," as he is tagged out by Cleveland third baseman Bubba Phillips between third and home in the eighth inning last night at Yankee Stadium. Skowron was caught in rundown when Phil Linz grounded to pitcher Bill Dailey who threw to Phillips. (AP Wirephoto)

MAJORS ROUNDUP

Yanks End Losing Streak; Senators And Red Sox Win

By UP INTERNATIONAL

Great strategist, that Ralph Houk.

"I figured we'd win one sometime," he said knowingly, working a cigar around the corners of his mouth so as to conceal the tongue in his cheek.

The never-really-worried Yankees finally did win one last night, thus ending a six-game losing streak as well as some diverse conjecture that they might be going to pot.

"I wasn't as concerned as most," Houk said, after Ralph Terry won his 19th with a three-hit 5-0 triumph over the Cleveland Indians that increased the Yankees' lead to 3½ games in the American League.

"I realized our pitching was a bit thin when we went into Baltimore," Houk added, referring to those five straight losses at the hands of the Orioles. "But we're squared away now."

Terry, the Yanks' No. 1 "stopper" all season long, took care of that.

The skinny, 26-year-old boyish-looking right-hander struck out nine, didn't walk a man and pitched perfect ball for five innings en route to his third shutout of the season.

Maybe it was Jack Kralick's hitless performance on Sunday, but Terry began to get no-hit ideas in the top of the sixth inning.

"I became aware I had a no-hitter as I walked out to the mound in the sixth and I thought it would be nice to pitch one," Terry revealed.

"So I decided I would try even harder. Pow! The first guy up for them in the sixth —Bubba Phillips — hits my slow curve like a shot down the third base line for a single.

"It didn't matter too much to me, though. The important thing is we won the ball game. A no-hitter would be meaningless to me if we didn't win the pennant."

The only other hits off Terry were a pair of singles, one by Tito Francona in the seventh and an infield safety by Al Luplow in the ninth.

MANTLE HAS BIG DAY

Rookie Sam McDowell suffered his sixth defeat in eight decisions, giving up two runs in the second inning before being kayoed during a three-run rally in the eighth when Mickey Mantle drove in the final run with his fourth hit of the game.

Only two other games were played in the American League, with the Washington Senators beating the Baltimore Orioles, 7-0, and the Boston Red Sox defeating the Detroit Tigers, 7-4.

All National League Teams were idle.

Tom Cheney snapped the Orioles' five-game winning streak with a four-hitter. The Washington right-hander has won only five games this season while losing eight, but three of his victories have been shutouts.

Harry Bright collected three of the Senators' nine hits and drove in two runs. Left-hander Billy Hoeft was tagged with his seventh setback compared with four victories.

RED SOX WIN

Lu Clinton's 17th homer of the year and seventh in the last 13 days led the Red Sox to their victory over the Tigers.

Clinton's two-run blast in the sixth inning offset first inning homers by Bill Bruton and Al Kaline. The Boston outfielder also drove in another run with a third inning double off loser Hank Aguirre, whose record is 12-6.

Gene Conley went 6⅓ innings for the Red Sox and was credited with his 13th victory against 11 losses. Rookie Dick Radatz came to Conley's aid in the seventh when the Tigers scored their last two runs and allowed only one hit the remainder of the way.

Plum Takes Charge As Lions Whip Steelers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Given the chance to prove his point, quarterback Milt Plum is doing just that these days for his new club, the Detroit Lions.

Acquired by the National Football League club in a multi-player deal with the Cleveland Browns, Plum expressed great satisfaction at escaping the "I-call-the-plays" system employed by Cleveland coach Paul Brown.

Pum always contended that a quarterback should be allowed to run the team on his own and in Cleveland that's just not the way it's done. After five years Plum began complaining out loud and before he knew it, he was wearing a Lions' jersey.

Detroit coach George Wilson promised the ex-Penn State star complete control of the club while he was on the field. Last night Plum not only was in control of the Lions but he ran the Pittsburgh Steelers too—right off the field, that is.

With the Detroit offense stumbling and his club trailing 7-0 in the second period, Wilson put in Plum. The ex-Brown peppered the Steeler defense with passes, completing 15 of 18, including two for touchdowns, as Detroit came from behind for a 26-20 victory.

That gave Plum 27 completions in 44 attempts in Detroit's first three exhibitions, and those kind of figures could make NFL Western Division coaches wish Plum had never left Cleveland.

Today was cutdown day in both American and National Leagues, with NFL teams forced to reduce their rosters to 43 men and AFL clubs to 38.

The Bills asked waivers on guard Jim La Compte, their seventh draft choice from North Carolina, and linebacker Don Caraway, who had been signed as a free agent. Buffalo also signed Marv Matuszak, a linebacker recently released by the Baltimore Colts.

The Vikings returned tackle Dale Memmelaar to the St. Louis Cardinals, nullifying an earlier trade that sent a 1963 draft choice to the Cards. Minnesota also got Ted Stute, a rookie tackle, from the Cleveland Browns.

Game Movies: Hickey Hits 49er Defense

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — "I certainly hope our defense is better than that. We are in for a long year if it isn't."

Thus Red Hickey summed up the San Francisco 49ers' Saturday night effort against Cleveland, won by the Browns 34-27. Hickey looked at game movies yesterday.

Several injuries hurt the 49er defense, however.

Cleveland runners Tommy Wilson, Jim Ninowski, and Jim Brown had a big night against these gentlemen.

Two-way halfback Ray Norton, defensive halfback Ed Dove, and offensive pass-run specialist Billy Kilmer were also injured which hurt the 49er cause.

The team got Sunday and yesterday off while the coaching staff went to the movies, but the team resumed workouts today at Redwood City.

Raiders' Game To Be On Television

SANTA CRUZ (AP)—The Oakland Raiders will be on television Friday from Stockton when they meet the Denver Broncos in an American Football League exhibition game.

But four Raiders may be watching instead of watched. Coach Marty Feldman must cut that many players to make a 44-man roster tomorrow. Eleven more must go by next week.

The final pre-season game for the Oaklanders will begin at 8 p.m.

First Warrior Home Game Against Pistons

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors will open their National Basketball Association home schedule Oct. 23 against the Detroit Pistons.

The Warriors announced yesterday a 33-home slate including 25 games at the Cow Palace and eight at the University of San Francisco. All games against Los Angeles and Boston, last year's NBA playoff finalists, will be at the Cow Palace.

Season ticket sales also began Monday.

HEAVY FAVORITE

Laver Picked To Win National Tennis Meet

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The National Tennis championships get under way on the polished turf of the West Side Tennis Club tomorrow and for all intents and purposes it will be Rod Laver against the field.

The red-thatched Australian left-hander has been cutting a wide swath all over Europe and Australia this year and has won just about everything in sight except his rivals' rackets.

At last count, he had won nine titles including the big three — Australia, France and Wimbledon. If he can win the United States championship—and he certainly is the heavy favorite—he will be the only other player besides Don Budge to capture the four top tournaments. Budge accomplished the feat in 1938.

Laver, of course, is seeded No. 1. Who might make it tough for him? Well, there's his Davis Cup teammate and defending champion, Roy Emerson, who is seeded No. 2 Emerson whipped him in the 1961 final.

The United States contingent is headed by Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., who blows hot and cold. He is No. 3, one of the two U.S. players seeded. The other is Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., No. 8.

Behind McKinley comes Rafael Osuna of the Mexican Davis Cup team that squashed the United States in the American zone final. Fred Stolle, a second line Australian, is No. 5, followed by Jan-Erik Lundquist of Sweden and Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy.

The women's division, too, is headed by an Aussie. Margaret Smith is No. 1, followed by Karen Hantze Susman of San Diego. Then there is Maria Bueno of Brazil, Vera Sukova of Czechoslovakia, defending champion Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Rene Shuurman of South Africa, Leslie Turner of Australia and Sandra Reynolds Price of South Africa.

This probably will be the most international of all 82 U.S. championships. Players from 30-odd nations will play.

Four Russians are in the tournament. This is the first time the Soviets ever have sent a delegation here, and they are the first to admit they don't expect to do much.

Squeeze Is On; Big Games On Tap This Week In National League

CONNOLLY

The "we don't believe nothing, no time" boys are pinching their sniffers (or holding their noses) when the subject of the recent Giant collapse, together with the "loafing charge," is mentioned.

Between pinches, they infer that maybe some of the athletes were not giving it the old college try.

It's hardly fair to try and finger Orlando Cepeda when we're something over 2,500 miles apart and know nothing, "except what we read in the newspapers."

The subject under discussion today in this pillar of sweetness and light is: How can anyone tell when an athlete is putting out his best effort?

Whenever the Giants are losing or playing loosely, you hear guys say, "the big bums are loafing, stalling."

In my younger days, when covering fights, I often made such remarks until one evening a big burly mugg sitting right behind me, said: "Suppose you step into the ring and take a little of that medicine!"

AND NOW the Giants seem back on the beam I have nothing to say but the finest of compliments for all of 'em.

Like everybody else, I notice when the Giants get good pitching and good hitting, they really go to town. Sometimes, of course, it takes them 13 hits to get a 3 to 2 triumph. But it makes no difference as long as they win.

So mebbe the law of averages is catching up with them and they might get some of the breaks that have been going against them.

One thing is sure this week —the big squeeze of the 1962 season is on.

TONIGHT THE Giants are back in Candlestick Park to engage those pesty Milwaukee Braves in three games while down south the Dodgers will be playing host to the Cincy Reds. In this exchange the Giants really are on the spot, for if the Reds whack the Dodgers they could pass the Giants.

Following this week's games against the Braves and Reds comes the "Big Payoff" series of four games in L.A. against the Dodgers. Many believe these to be the most crucial of games but I believe the flag fight will hardly be over, for sure, until the last few games of the year.

But who knows? This crazy and unpredictable game of baseball inflames followers one week and the next it convinces you that "you don't believe nothing, no time."

Jackpots Of Salmon, Bass

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

What a trip the boys had aboard the Privateer II on Saturday. Forty-two salmon boated with three in the 30 pound class and one that rated a Schenley award, a 36-pounder.

The Lee Anderson Bait emporium which made the above report also gave honorable mention to The Sea Horse which netted 30 salmon to 18 pounds, the Lucky Day with 22 to 20 pounds and the Ge Ge with 18 of the beauties to 15 pounds.

Yea, verily, it seems that the salmon are still around. The above action was had off Point Reyes.

THE LADS and ladies who prefer the fight and fuss of a striped bass had limit luck when they trolled off Alcatraz. I just checked on three boats out of Lee Anderson's, two of which worked the Alcatraz sector. The Cherokee had seven limits of bass to 12 pounds by 10 a.m. Saturday and the R.S.P. also had limits for its seven trollers and someone landed a 10-pound salmon on the same trip. The Mille Lin came in with 10 bass taken off Selby with the top fish going to 10 pounds.

From Dowrelio's at Crockett I learned that the trolling boats average a bit better than a fish-and-a-half per rod with quite a few fish landed on bait in both the morning and afternoons.

THE MARIN SIDE of the bay seems to be slow, but surely coming into its own. Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching counted 14 bass in the small and medium sized class on Saturday, and Grace Quan of China Camp was optimistic over immediate future production of stripers in her area.

Two of the happiest of the bait fishermen were Tony Laker and son who fished from shore near Crockett and acquired a limit in 90 minutes with a top fish of 15 pounds. Tony hails from the south county area and used sardines to tempt the fish.

SOMEONE CALLED to ask about plug casting at Dillon's Point. I would call it normal at the present time. By normal, I mean, some of the boys took home limits, others had two fish, a few had only one, and, as is always the case, one or two pulled a blank. I talked with Mrs. Lagrone and learned that a few of the "regulars" are making the grade is usual. Dr. Ney limited out to 12 pounds, Ronnie Murphy took away a 6-, 8- and a 9-pounder; John Read had two fish, one 5 and one 16-pounder, and Everett Rogers landed a 7 and a 9 in the morning one day, and a 7 and an 8 in the evening the following day. Mrs. Lagrone also reported quite a few bass taken on bait at Dillon's Point.

Several anglers whom I contacted here and there told me the fish are dark in color with red fins and tails at times. A sure indication of fresh run fish, and everything points toward the looked-for fall run of stripers in the Upper San Pablo Bay.

FORMER MARINITE NOW A PRO

Reg Carolan, former all-around athletic star at Sir Francis Drake High School, is pictured in the uniform of the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League. After four outstanding seasons at University of Idaho, Carolan was signed this summer by the Chargers as their sixth draft choice. An end, he is one of two former Marin high school stars now in professional football. The other is Matt Hazeltine, Tamalpais graduate, now defensive captain and linebacker for the San Francisco 49ers.

Weatherly In Cradle After Hard Summer

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Weatherly, newly-chosen defender of the 111-year-old America's Cup, is in a shipyard cradle today, resting and drying out after a strenuous summer of racing.

Skipper Bus Mosbacher and his crew have returned to their homes to catch up on affairs left untended during the almost daily racing.

They are scheduled to return and take up serious trials again Sept. 8. The races against the Australian challenger Gretel start Sept. 15. Victory, and the Cup, goes to the first boat to win four races.

While the American racing machine of men, sails and ship was temporarily disbanded, Gretel continued test-racing against her trial horse Vim.

The white sloop spent yesterday afternoon trying out a new mainsail and Genoa jib from the sail loft of Ted Hood of Marblehead, Mass. Hood was the skipper-designer of Nefertiti, defeated in the final trials by Weatherly.

After 12 seasons as line coach, Mike Cooley, class of Georgia '48, has the head coaching post at Lehigh University.

NEW MCAL COMMISSIONER—George Corson, new commissioner of the Marin County Athletic League, looks at trophy which was awarded to the 1947 Tamalpais High baseball team which won the North Bay League championship during Corson's reign as baseball coach. (Independent-Journal photo)

New Marin League Athletic Commissioner Well Qualified

By RALPH CHATOIAN

The new commissioner of the Marin County Athletic League is a man whose record is illustrative proof he is well qualified for the job.

The man is George Corson, athletic director at Sir Francis Drake High School. He had been serving as acting commissioner since the death of Commissioner Victor Jones on March 1.

Corson took over as athletic director—along with coaching varsity football and baseball—in 1951 when Drake opened. He continued coaching football for two years and baseball for five years.

The 51-year-old Corson coached the Pirate freshman baseball team last spring in which he says "was probably my last year of active coaching."

MODESTO NATIVE

A native of Modesto, Corson attended high school there where he played football, baseball and track. He continued playing baseball and football when he attended College of Pacific, now the University of Pacific.

He played both semi-pro baseball and football during his youth. A center and linebacker in football and a first baseman in baseball, Corson weighed 185 pounds, a weight he still maintains today.

The new commissioner had coached football and baseball at Analy High School in Sebastopol from 1936 to 1942 when he came to Marin to coach at Tamalpais High.

The following year Corson entered the Navy and was a commanding officer of a mine sweeper in the Pacific. After the war's end, Corson returned to Tam High in 1946.

He coached varsity baseball at Tam until 1951 and was a mentor for the football team during 1946. Tam baseball team won the North Bay League championship in 1947 and again the following year, 1948. Then in 1951 he went to Drake.

Last year he took a leave of absence from Drake and went to Paris, France, where he was athletic director and baseball, football and golf coach at Paris American High School.

In May of 1961 he coached the Paris school's golf team to a victory in an all-Europe golf tourney held in Germany. "And we won by 20 strokes," Corson added.

New Goals, Busy Year For Family Service Agency

MRS. MANWARING

It will be a busy year for the Family Service Agency of Marin if the goals outlined by its new president, Mrs. John Manwaring, are to be reached.

Mrs. Manwaring said that the agency, which protects family life through casework service for troubled families and-seeks to improve social conditions that affect all families, has as its year's goals, to retire its deficit, to acquire adequate housing since the lease is being terminated this fall, and to establish an agency branch in Novato.

The new president points out that the agency is also aided by its five units of the Family Service League throughout the county.

A social service graduate of Stanford University, Marjorie Manwaring has also served the Family Service Agency as membership chairman and secretary in the past three years.

Having lived in Marin all her life, she attended Ross Grammar School and was graduated from the Katharine Branson School, and is now active in the Branson Alumnae Assn. Recent Supreme Court Decisions Seem To Indicate Moral Decay

What kind of a nation are we creating for our children? Is it wrong for me to worry about Supreme Court decisions? What do you think?

We have a dynamic Supreme Court. The judges on it are our final legal oligarchs. In their last session they came to some decisions I can't understand.

They ruled that a prayer which had been used by teachers and pupils in the schools of New York was unconstitutional. You heard about that, I'm sure. But do you know what else they did?

On the same day, they ruled that a nasty little magazine devoted to spreading homosexual pictures and stories was constitutional. It could not be suppressed. And they freed some Communists from their contempt of Congress convictions on a minor technicality. Earlier in the session they ruled that narcotic addiction was not a crime.

Are we building an America where prayer in school is suppressed, but printed obscenity is given a free rein? An America which somehow is not allowed to defend itself from deadly enemies? A country which won't even let officers arrest known narcotic addicts?

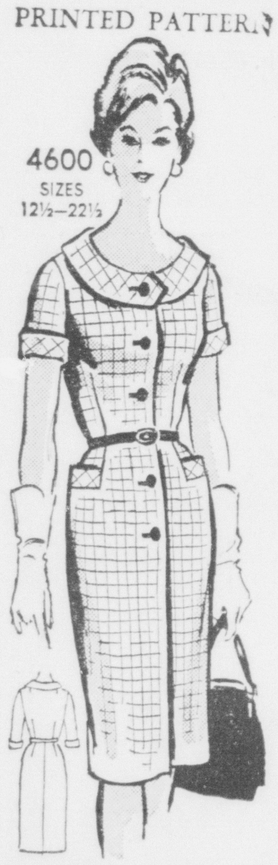

Don't misunderstand me. I acknowledge the place of the Supreme Court. I am not questioning the integrity of the judges. I'm no anarchist. But I get the jimjams over what appears to me to be an official program for moral decay. I feel that the judges have misinterpreted the intentions of the high-principled men who created the constitution. Do you feel this way too? Or am I alone in my dismay?

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "What can parents who feel the Supreme Court ruling against prayer in school is wrong do to change things?"
B. G.

(A) A move has been started in Congress to submit a constitutional amendment to the states. If passed, an amendment could protect appropriate inter-denominational prayers. Parents can write to their senators and congressmen, asking them to hurry the amendment along.

No Grades In Future Classrooms

dents in the next decade might very well study in a school that has no windows, no grades — and yippee—no report cards!

Such expectations are based on experimental studies now underway on building design, teaching tools, changes in curriculum.

Changes around the corner, as authorities at the National Education Association reports them, include:

—Classrooms of different sizes. If the "team teaching" method becomes popular, school buildings will have to be changed. Team teaching will require large rooms for use when the entire class gets together and smaller ones for small group tutoring.

—Television. An increasing number of schools are using it now as a teaching aid.

—Tape recorders. Especially helpful in teaching foreign languages, recorders now are being used in conjunction with slides and films to provide a running commentary for the ear to match visual stimulus.

—Tests. There will undoubtedly be fewer outside tests, already under fire from school administrators. It's wasteful to give so many tests, the administrators say, because many duplicate measurement of the same thing—academic ability.

New Mattress Needs Care, Turning In First Months

Preserve a new mattress with proper care, advises one manufacturer.

The new mattress needs to be turned once a month during the first six months of its life. After that, once or twice a year is sufficient. Foam rubber mattresses need no turning unless it's a reversible kind with a different amount of firmness on each side.

The manufacturer recommended use of a protective pad on the box spring for two reasons:

First, it will help protect the bedding from dust and dirt.

Second, the body produces a half pint of moisture during a night's sleep. Without a washable pad, the moisture can ruin a mattress.

That time-honored method of cleaning a mattress — beating it—may shorten its life considerably, said the company.

Rather than beating, go over the bedding surface once a month with a whisk broom or the upholstery attachment of a vacuum cleaner. This removes surface soil and helps fluff the innards.

To clean slightly soiled mattress ticking, use dry suds from a solution of lukewarm water and mild soap or detergent.

Be careful not to get the mattress wet.

Rinse with a sponge rung out of clear water, and be sure to let one side dry thoroughly before cleaning the other. (UPI)

The Education for Childbirth program will offer another series of class instruction in September. Both afternoon and evening classes will start on Sept. 6. Afternoon classes will be held from 2 to 3:30 p.m. and evening classes from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Instructors for the fall series will be Helen S. Weeks and Gunhild H. Brown, registered physical therapists. The classes will meet at Mrs. Brown's office at 711 D St. Annex, San Rafael.

The eight-week course includes a group of exercises to help the expectant mother be more comfortable during pregnancy. Exercises for relaxation, posture training and breathing techniques are practiced. Emphasis is given to the understanding of the processes of labor and childbirth. A Parent's Class is given where expectant fathers attend and films are shown.

Doctor's written permission is required for enrollment. Further information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Brown.

Real Shootin' Iron

The maker of a new toy gun reports the rifle looks like a real shooting iron, but shoots only a beam of light when fired. The electronic firearm comes with its own target. When a bull's-eye is scored, a light flashes and a bell rings on target. This makes up for the noise of a real shot. The rifle makes only a clicking sound, hardly audible, when fired.

Shellacked Toes

Give your school boy's shoes a coating of clear shellac over the toes. Its a boy's nature to kick at everything like a stick, tin can or stone along his pathway, so the shellac will make his shoe toes last longer.

MOTHER'S HOUR

A Revolt Against The Humdrum

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (UPI)—There's a quiet rebellion going on in our land, a revolt against the humdrum.

It shows in numerous treatises on the subject of the different—the different vacation (join an archaeological expedition), the different diet (fasting for two or three days), the different approach to cooking ("Eat Better the No-Cook Way", "Stalking the Wild Asparagus"), the different way to spend leisure time (mountain climbing, skin diving).

It would appear from assorted studies of the modern housewife that she's a ringleader in this desire to break with conformity. The latest examination of the distaff rebellion to come across this desk is in an article called "I Don't Feel Trapped Anymore." It contains excerpts from letters from 26,000 women who wrote Redbook magazine how they changed their pattern for daily living.

The departure from the prosaic found women enrolling in ballet classes, going back to making bread from scratch, setting aside one hour a day as "mother's hours" in which mother did exactly what she wanted to do, even operating a ham radio station.

Their suggestions started some of us women in the office to compiling our own list of techniques for getting out of a rut. You'll think of others, so let us hear from you.

Volunteer for a few hours each week at a hospital or for a charity.

Take up a new skill, like old-fashion crochet or embroidery.

Invite yourself and husband to a downtown restaurant, take the kids and let them experiment with steak tartar and vichysoisse instead of the eternal hamburger and catchup.

Ask the boss for a raise and remind him you're usually the last out of the office every day.

Enroll for an art class.

Plan a family tour of the museum, the library, the local monuments.

Cook that recipe for coq au vin you clipped from the food columns of your newspaper and serve it by candlelight with CLOTH napkins and silver usually reserved for company.

Tell the husband how handsome he looks.

Buy a floating, feminine negligee and wear it.

Give yourself a facial. Get a professional massage.

Let the dishes stay in the sink for 24 hours.

Write a thank-you letter long overdue.

Get up at five A.M. for a change to watch a sunrise and sniff a dewy rose.

Clean out a closet. Redecorate a room.

Go to a concert in the park.

Cheer up an ailing neighbor whom you've been neglecting. Take along a bouquet you grew yourself.

Splurge on a heady new perfume.

Take a walk in a part of your town you've never explored. Take a walk in the country and help yourself to a rediscovery of the world you live in.

Look up at the sky to see how clear its blue on a perfect fall day.

Stop what you're doing right now and take time for daydreaming. In today's hasty world, there should be a few idle hours for soul-restoring.

Catherine Isabel Silcock Married To Peter D. Rush

In St. Sebastian's Church in Greenbrae recently, Catherine Isabel Silcock became the bride of Peter Danford Rush of Michigan.

Catherine was given in marriage by her father, Francis Howard Silcock of Burlingame. She is the daughter of Mrs. Coleman Silcock of Kentfield.

The Rev. Cyril Burns officiated for the noon wedding.

Edward Rush was his brother's best man, and Robert McGown and Richard Soo Hoo were the ushers.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rush of Michigan. He was graduated from Michigan State University, and received his master's degree in English from the University of California.

Catherine was graduated from Dominican Upper School and Dominican College. She attended the University of California School of Law.

After a reception held at the home of the bride's mother, the newlyweds left for a trip to Lake Tahoe. When they return, they will live in Bakersfield.

Opening lead — ♠ Q

This hand puzzled the experts in the recent Life Master Pair Championship. The problem was what to bid with the North hand after South has responded one heart.

ONLY 3 TRUMPS

It's easy if North has a fourth heart and only five diamonds, for then he can comfortably jump to three hearts. But how can he jump in hearts with only three trumps?

It brings to mind the story of Fred Kaplan in a tournament some 20 years ago. His partner jump-raised with the ace-king-queen of trumps.

When the dummy appeared with only these three trumps, Kaplan pulled out his watch and announced grimly, "I'll give you just 15 seconds to produce another trump."

CHOICE OF EVILS

In this case North has a choice of evils. If he jumps to three hearts he may find out that South has a weak four-card suit. But if North bids anything else he may get left.

In the national tournament more than half of the experts missed game by failing to bid three hearts on the North hand. South couldn't find another bid without that encouragement.

One hand doesn't prove a bidding point conclusively, but most of the best players at the tournament agreed that the jump to three hearts was the best bid available. Think of this the next time you have a very good hand with only three-card support for your partner's suit.

SMALL POINT

There was a small point in the play of the hand. At most tables West opened the queen of spades, holding the trick. The expert defenders then cashed the ace of clubs before continuing spades, just to guard against accidents.

When this wasn't done spade before anybody thought South usually won the third of clubs. He could then draw trumps and discard his clubs on dummy's good diamonds.

It was just an extra trick, but such trifles are very important in tournament play.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

In 1917, 10 suffragettes who picketed the White House were arrested for disturbing the peace.

A thought for the day: American naval great, Chester Nimitz, said: "A ship is always referred to as 'she' because it costs so much to keep one in paint and powder."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Prompt Emergency Treatment Often Saves Life When Heart Is Injured

VAN DELLEN

Prompt emergency treatment often saves the life of a person whose heart is injured by a stab wound or other type of penetrating lesion. More than 80 per cent of those sustaining these accidents live to tell the tale. Some require surgery to suture the wound whereas others get along with a simple procedure involving the removal of blood from the sac surrounding the heart (pericardium).

This sac is suspended from the upper part of the heart where the large blood vessels enter and leave the organ. It is made of tough material and resembles in some respects an ordinary plastic bag of good tensile strength. The pericardium separates the old pump from the lungs and provides a smooth surface for the beating heart to operate.

MANY WOUNDS involving the heart do not penetrate thru the entire thickness of the wall. There is bleeding into the pericardial sac and when it continues, the pumping action of the heart is impaired, because it is beating in a sacful of blood.

The ventricles cannot dilate, to be refilled with the blood they expect to pump out to the rest of the body. Large amounts of fluid in the pericardium create so much pressure, the old pump finally gives up and the individual succumbs to the accident.

LIFE CAN BE saved by withdrawing a small quantity of blood with a needle and syringe. The needle is inserted through the chest wall and dramatic results follow extraction of one to six teaspoons of vital fluid.

Many whose lives have been saved in this way develop trouble in years to come. In some instances, the blood remaining in the sac—along with the residuals from the injury—produce scars that affect the pumping action of the heart. A second operation may be needed to free adhesions from the constricted heart. Others develop chest pain, fever, and evidence of infection or irritation within the sac. The cause of these symptoms is not known but an adrenal steroid such as cortisone is most helpful.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

TYPHOID CARRIERS

P. A. writes: After a person is cured of typhoid fever, can he become a carrier at a later date?

REPLY

Yes, but in the circumstances, this was a questionable cure. Symptoms subsided after treatmen but some of the typhoid bacilli escaped and settled in the gall bladder. As carriers they are indulging in guerrilla warfare.

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

W. R. writes: Where can I get information on the mouth to mouth method of saving a drowned person?

REPLY

Our leaflet on artificial respiration, which may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope, describes this and other methods of saving lives after swimming mishaps.

WANTS BROAD SHOULDERS

E. M. writes: How can a man build up narrow shoulders and a skinny neck?

REPLY

NOT THAT EASY

W. L. S. writes: Is there a medicine to reduce hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

Not to my knowledge. Many are advocated for this purpose but there is no proof they work.

13 NOT TOO OLD

H. S. writes: Is it unusual for a 13-year-old boy to contract rheumatic fever?

REPLY

No. Age five is the most common age group but 13 is not too old.

Today's Health Hint—Avoid boating too close to swimmers, fishermen and water skiers.

How the money you save for your family's future can help your country now

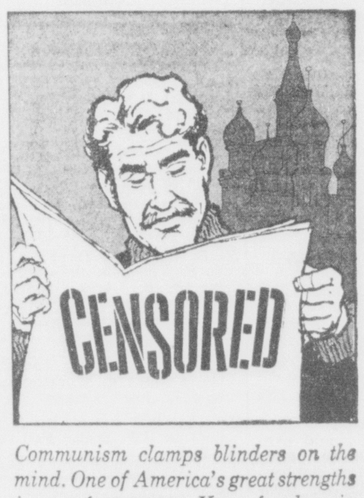

Some up-to-date facts about the U.S. Savings Bond way to security

Why buy this Bond? One important reason for buying Savings Bonds today is to help preserve your freedom to own a share in your country.

It takes more than arithmetic to add up the benefits you get from U.S. Savings Bonds. You'll have no trouble counting the dollars and cents at 3¾% interest, but the other benefits—not so easily counted—are every bit as necessary to your family's future.

One of these benefits is freedom itself. Every dollar you invest in a Savings Bond gives Uncle Sam exactly that much more help in the vital task of safeguarding liberty today. You not only save money, at the same time you also help save your future freedom to enjoy it. That's why Bonds are such a sound way today to reach any savings goal. With Bonds, you save for a home and a better world to build it in. With Bonds, you save for your own retirement and the liberty to enjoy it as you choose.

Why not buy a Bond today? All you need is $18.75 and a little of the "spirit of '76."

Communism clamps blinders on the mind. One of America's great strengths is our free press. Keep freedom in your future with U.S. Savings Bonds.

Keep freedom in your future with

RISE IN STATE TAX ON GAS IS FORECAST

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The six cents that every California motorist pays in state taxes on each gallon of gasoline almost certainly will be raised to seven cents next year, or perhaps even to seven and a half cents.

This is the report from a member of a citizens advisory committee studying the problem.

The source said, if the increase is one cent a gallon, it will go to cities and counties for work on city streets and county roads. If it is a cent and a half increase, the half-cent would go to the state division of highways in order to increase the pace of freeway construction.

PRESENT DIVISION

The present six-cent tax provides that four cents go to the state highway fund, three-eighths cent to the counties and five-eighths cent to the cities.

But spokesmen for cities have argued that this is an antiquated formula. They point out that the formula was set up before big urban development. As a result, the cities are getting bigger and the county area and population smaller by comparison.

The citizens committee source said it was doubtful if this apparent inequity ever could be settled if it meant one side would lose revenues. However, if the tax is raised and this results in one-sided revenue division, a reshuffling of the city-county formula might be affected, he said.

If a gasoline tax increase bill is introduced in the 1963 legislature it probably would come from Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka). Collier, who is the veteran chairman of the senate transportation committee, has held numerous hearings on the deficiencies in the city and county road systems.

HIKE CONSIDERED

Two years ago, in advance of the 1961 legislature, Collier's committee considered a 50 per cent increase in the in lieu tax paid by motorists—the tax paid at registration renewal time in addition to the flat registration fee.

However, by the time the 1961 session was underway, the plan was dropped. The in lieu tax boost would have been aimed at helping the city-county highway deficits.

If a serious move is made to increase gasoline taxes and make internal adjustments of the tax structure, it is sure to open up the question of the present formula for distribution of highway taxes. At present, 55 per cent of the funds go to Northern California and 45 per cent to the southern counties.

Ford's Out With New Model, You'll See It In Marin Soon

Ford Motor Co. has led off in 1963 model announcements by releasing details and photographs of the new Falcon Futura convertible.

It will be shown in Marin dealers' showrooms (Ames, San Rafael; J and B, Mill Valley; Dervin, Novato), Sept. 28.

It is the first compact to provide 36,000-mile factory installed major chassis lubrication and 6,000-mile oil change and minor lube intervals. Even the traditional oil and inspection after the first 1,000 miles will be eliminated.

The Futura has a 109.5-inch wheelbase and will be available with a choice of automatic, three-speed manual or fully synchronized four-speed manual transmissions.

SOMETHING UNUSUAL in dividends was announced to shareholders of Mayacamas Vineyards in Napa Sunday by chairman of the board Jack Taylor, a resident of Sleepy Hollow.

Directors declared one-tenth of Chardonnay wine for each 10 shares held.

Taylor, a former Shell Oil Co. vice president, and his wife Mary bought the 265-acre Mayacamas property in 1941, reactivated the winery in 1945 and incorporated four years ago.

Shareholders have also participated profitwise in another way. In the last nine months they bought 31 per cent of all the winery's products—at a discount. Averaged among those who purchased, they realized a return of almost 13 per cent on their investment.

But the actual yield depended on their drinking habits—varying from 1.4 per cent to 116.4 per cent.

"THAR'S GOLD in them thar (Marin) hills."

The second annual "Million Dollar Tour" of Belvedere-Tiburon real estate property listings last week by Home and Land Co. (Edward P. Ward and William H. Rafter) was able to make up the million figure in no more than 16 property listings. Six of them alone came to half a million.

Homes were located in the Reedlands, Seafirth, Harbor Point, Belvedere Island and Red Hill.

ACCOUNTING, business management and secretarial administration are among the specialized subjects of privately owned Armstrong College in Berkeley which will enter its 45th year with the fall quarter starting Sept. 24.

Over 100 subjects in the business field are taught by 31 faculty members.

SHOPPING for school clothes?

It will pay to examine them closely. Youngsters can go through them fast—particularly the poorly constructed garments.

In general, look for firm, close weaves. In wool and wool blends, look for resiliency. In cotton knitwear, for elasticity. "Combed cotton" is stronger and smoother than ordinary cotton.

Exaggerated narrow styles and tight fits are more difficult to put on and strain materials and seams. Skimpily cut garments do the same. Roomier garments will wear better.

Seams should be flat and stitched closely with strong thread. Look for bar tacking, taped seams and other reinforcements at points of strain.

F. T. WEBER, agency manager of Equitable Life Assurance Society, must have had a terrific year. No less than 11 Marin men and their wives have qualified for a conference in Santa Barbara for outstanding production in the months preceding August. Alan Birch, Milt Cerf, Alder Henrie, John Hourihan, Buel Snyder, Jack Stickney, Ronald Doll, Russell Troup, Ed Williams, Don Brawner and Allan Murray.

OLD STANDBYS. Industrial News Review notes that there are 60 companies with shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange who have paid cash dividends every quarter without a single miss for the past 50 years. The granddaddy of the group has an unbroken dividend record approaching a century.

THE INVESTOR-OWNED electric utility industry leads all other industries in the nation in tax payments. These now run to about $2.3 billion a year, which represents approximately 24 cents out of every dollar of revenue from customers.

PURITY STORES, INC. has decided to use a service distributor, Rawson Drug and Sundry Co., Inc., for its entire general merchandise non-food program. Rawson, one of the largest distributors in the country, will buy, do the warehousing and service for all Purity's 96 Northern California stores.

HE'S ALL WET, BUT HE WON TOP HONORS

Air Force Cadet Paul D. Tolleson left Hamilton Air Force Base this weekend after a month's summer training with two things to remember: He was chosen "outstanding cadet" among the 200 man Reserve Officers Training Corps encampment and got a dunking for his efforts from runners-up in the competition. Tolleson is a student at Louisiana Poly Technical College in Louisiana. During the session cadets visited a Niki-Ajax missile site, saw the "Hedgehog," a new rocket powered explosive charge, at Treasure Island and toured Mather Air Force Base in Sacramento to inspect new flight training equipment.

TV Repairman Signing Excuse?

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Students in a class at Disston Junior High School were trying to decide what a pupil watching a televised lecture could tell the teacher if his television set went on the blink.

The obvious solution, said Patty Wittmeyer, would be to have the television repairman sign the excuse.

SAUSALITO PLANS CITY AUCTION

Anyone for a hub cap, 50-year old light globe, angel food cake pan or a flat nose shovel?

These and a great many more items owned by the City of Sausalito will go up for auction at 10 a.m. Friday, Sept. 7.

With City Manager Charles A. Brown as auctioneer, the action is to take place at the former Ernie's Waterfront Restaurant, 815 Bridgeway.

Many of the auction items, Brown said, were found by police or were used as evidence. These include automobile parts and accessories, bicycles and household items.

Property may be inspected prior to the auction by getting in touch with the city office. If a buyer cannot be present at the sale, he may submit sealed bids. Bids, said Brown, must be accompanied by cashier's check, personal check or money order.

In the melange of goods are lanterns, bumper jacks, a typewriter, transmitters and receivers, a sterling demi-tasse spoon set, swivel ofice chairs, pails, steel helmets, a public address system, canvas bags, spray set, a mailbox and a scythe.

Church Establishes Memorial Fund

A memorial fund has been established at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo in honor of the late Mrs. Harriet W. Hobdy of Kentfield, who died Aug. 16 in a local hospital following a brief illness.

Mrs. Hobdy was the mother of Mrs. Robert Hobart, with whom she lived at Broadway and Oak Avenue. Mrs. Hobart's name was inadvertently given at Mrs. Elizabeth Hobdy in an obituary notice. Mrs. Hobdy's first name also was listed incorrectly as Hariet instead of Harriet.

Mrs. Hobdy was the widow of the late Dr. William C. Hobdy who was commander of the immigration service at Angel Island during the 1906 earthquake.

Donations Make A Park

HAGERMAN, Ida. (UPI)—Emerson Pugmire is the mayor of Hagerman. He admits being a con-artist and a man who doesn't care about names.

And yet, it's a wonder the people of Hagerman haven't named a park "the Emerson Pugmire Park."

"Smokey," as everyone calls Pugmire, put the people of Hagerman to work.

He made them give up leisure time, television, reading and socials; made them pack up their shovels, rakes, hoes and heavy motor equipment if they had any, and build a park here on the Snake River.

The park is located at what is known as Niagara Springs, where a mass of tiny springs drip from the rocks into the Snake

When the Hagerman residents first looked at the land around the springs in an attempt to identify a park, all they could see was a dead apple orchard on a dry knoll.

"It was a sight," Smokey said. "But we needed a park. The springs made a good atmosphere for a park, and I wanted to see it developed."

So, borrowing bulldozers from the construction firms and the state, the citizens plowed down the knoll and tore up all but a few of the apple trees.

Smokey obtained road graders, trucks and smaller soil equipment and handed them over to his people. At one point, he talked construction firms and the state into loaning him 40 dump trucks that all put in a goodly share of work.

The labor force pooled resources and bought dynamite to blast some obstructing rocks out of the river so boaters and swimmers could have more room.

They installed a $3,200 gravity flow sprinkler system and made picnic benches and fireplaces to cover the five-acre park. They paid for the material themselves.

Smokey talked the Idaho Power Co. into stringing lights through the park and donating 700 young evergreens to plant in the park.

And the land: Smokey talked Idaho Power Co. into giving up that, too.

Every time Mayor Pugmire passed a home that had some young trees or flower plants, he pulled his car into the driveway and told the owners he thought they should be donated to the park.

"That's the way most things had to be done," he said. "But sometimes I wished I could remember the names of all the people who helped.

"Names just don't mean much to me, though."

So many people now visit the area that the Idaho Fish and Game Department is forced to restock the waters around the park with fish every month.

The State Department of Commerce and Development called the park "just about the most beautiful" in the state.

But Smokey takes little credit. Anyway, he's busy now trying to talk the citizens into building a meat packing house for his tiny agricultural community.

Planners Delay Some Of Agenda

Six items on yesterday's 56-item Marin County Planning Commission agenda were continued by agreement at the outset of the session.

Five went over to Sept. 17, including rezoning of an area of McNair's Beach to multiple family, highway business and retail business; amendment of the Marinwood Master Plan to delete an elementary school site at Las Gallinas Avenue and Lucas Valley Road; rezoning of 2.93 acres along the northern boundary of the Tamalpais Valley School to suburban agricultural or one-family; consideration of a tentative map of 11-acre Crest Oaks west of Novato where water must be developed before submission of map; and tentative map of Goheen Enterprises' 2.9-acre Tennessee Valley Homes Unit 1, where purchase by the Mill Valley School District is under consideration.

Indefinite continuation was agreed concerning a tentative map of 33-acre Venetia Can, west of McPhail School, due to tideland boundary problem.

Innocent Plea In Theft Charge

Anthony Dennis O'Gorman, 28, of Forest Knolls pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to charges of robbing at gunpoint the Eat and Run Drive-in in Kentfield Aug. 11.

O'Gorman is accused of aiming a revolver at two employees at the drive-in and forcing them to give him about $7 from their wallets. He was arrested later in Fairfax.

Judge Thomas F. Keating set Oct. 9 for O'Gorman's jury trial. O'Gorman is represented by Public Defender Peter Allen Smith.

Sentence Delayed In Theft Case

A probation report and sentencing of a Tiburon restaurant employee charged with stealing $2,000 were continued yesterday in Marin Superior Court until Sept. 4.

John Neal McInnis, 37, former assistant manager of Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon, admitted last month he took the cash instead of depositing it in a bank and fled town for three weeks.

His sentencing was continued previously from Aug. 20.

At Pearl Harbor

Ralph M. Wells II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Wells of 1450 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, is serving as a missile technician seaman at Pearl Harbor Naval Base, Hawaii.

Molest Figure Asks For Exam

A San Anselmo cook accused of molesting young girls asked for psychiatric examinations yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Criminal proceedings against Howard Van Pelt Cannan Sr., 46, of 228-A, Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, were suspended and a report by two psychciatrists will be submitted in Marin Superior Court Sept. 24. A probation report on Cannan will be submitted Sept. 17. Cannan waived a preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon in municipal court.

He was arrested by San Anselmo police on suspicion of molesting three girls, 11, 14, and 18 years old, over a period of several years.

Retired Citizens Meeting Saturday

The Marin Chapter of the American Assn. of Retired Persons will meet Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the Methodist Church of San Rafael.
